SIXTH FORM

SIXTH FORM HISTORY

In the fall of 1948, the first members of the Class of '53 found their way into life at Fountain Valley. The three original members were Bob Wood, Sheridan, Wyo.; Skip Hettinger, Colorado Springs, Colo.; and John Dick, New York, N. Y. This trio lived in constant fear of the upper forms in First House. All managed to survive their first year to return to the Second Form. Christmas Vacation came early for a few of our members that year. The year also saw the addition of several new members: Mike Tibbett, Naples, Fla.; Sam Cooper, Omaha Neb.; Anthony Bonforte, Colorado Springs, Colo.; Bruce Howard, Denver, Colo.; Tom Irvine, St. Paul, Minn.; Jim Judson, Grosse Pointe, Mich.; and, half-way through the year, Dan Charlton, Denver, Colo. The class of '53 was growing, and was to become one of the largest forms in the school.

The Third Form became the "real" year for the Class of '53. The ranks were filled with Bob Service, Colorado Springs, Colo.; Tom Knorr, Wichita, Kan.; Wayne "the cowboy" MacVeagh, Colorado Springs, Colo.; Gordon Hughes, Sacramento, California; Charles Koch, Wichita, Kan.; Frank Kraus, Sacramento, Calif.; and a few left-overs from the Class of '52 in the form of Ernie May, Cody, Wyo.; Pud Alderson, Birney, Mont.; and Bill Glascock, Los Angeles, Calif. MacVeagh brought more saddles to the school than there were horses; Wood redecorated his room; and "slow-moving" Hughes kept up a small aviary. Also, above the usual noise came the hum of model airplanes under the guidance of pilot Hettinger and his crew. Thus we left our third year.

In the fall of 1950 the overgrown class of '53 began to make headway by leaps and bounds with the addition of Andy Anderson, Dallas, Tex.; Pete Nolan, Tacoma, Wash.; Dave Tittle, Winnetka, Ill.; Jim Kerlin, Tulsa, Okla.; Paul Reed, Colorado Springs, Colo.; and Tom Pabst, New Jersey. Also from the great state of New York we found the first real Eastern Cowboy, Henry Wise.

In the fall of 1951 the class accepted into its fold six new members: Phil Cox from Des Moines; Tom Bohnen from Winnetka, Ill.; "Rab" Moore and Pete Taylor from Denver; Bob Rahm from Grosse Pointe, Mich.; and Dan Worth from Albuquerque, N. Mex. Thankful at last to be rid of First House, The Fifth Form settled down in the West end of Penrose.

In the winter term the looming of the mid-year exams somewhat sobered up everyone, and the dorm was once more in a state of tranquility. The interest in basketball and hockey helped to quiet things down. After Christmas the blaring of the jazz classics brought everyone to the realization that another Winnetkan was in their midst, and Chuck Fisk was found to be a staunch member of the class of '53. After spring vacation, the form once again returned to make its name famous in the annals of F.V.S. History. Sports once more dominated the scene, and the whole gang was to be found on the baseball diamond, the track, tennis courts, or on the Gymkhana field. Another sport was also gaining by leaps and bounds, and that was mountaineering, sponsored by Messrs. Glascock, Hughes, and Service. It was not rare to see these three belaying each other off the various roofs. When commencement time rolled around, the class of '53 bade a fond farewell to Fountain Valley in high hopes of a successful summer and senior year to follow.

In the fall term of their last year, the class saw four new members in their midst; Aymon "Count" deSales from New York City; his roommate from Milwaukee, Tom Kurth; and Fred Fung from Colorado Springs. Phil Rahm was also with us from the class of '52.

At mid-term, another member joined the ranks, Jim Donaldson, from Minnesota. It seemed as though the increased responsibility for the new Sixth Formers somewhat settled and matured them for the coming year.

With college or the draft looming in front of them, the class began to worry about its academic standing. Still, they were full of vitality, and managed to blow off most of their steam in athletics. Hamlet, geomorphology, and physics were all taken in stride, and the class became aware that there was more to shcool than they had realized. Under the guidance of Mr. Spock, the new dorm-master, and the Student Council, the Form bore its responsibilities well. But, even at that, there were a few meetings of the Form in the common room, and the shouts and pounding feet in the corridors revealed that life was not all-work-and-no-play. After the Christmas holidays, when the applications began to go out for college, many again sensed the gruesome meaning of mid-years and started to plug conscientiously. At the same time the Ski-bug hit several members, and the slopes were too inviting to be ignored. At conclusion of hockey and basketball seasons, baseball and track became the big rage, but the sun-tan team was not to be left out. Phil Rahm, Aymon deSales, Dan Worth, John Morgan, Pete Taylor, Sam Cooper, and Wayne MacVeagh signed up for this beneficial pastime, but found that it was not a sanctioned substitution for sports and became active in the other activities. Tom Bohnen, Bob Rahm, and "Rab" Moore succumbed to the call of the diamond and tried to interest everybody in the "favorite pastime."

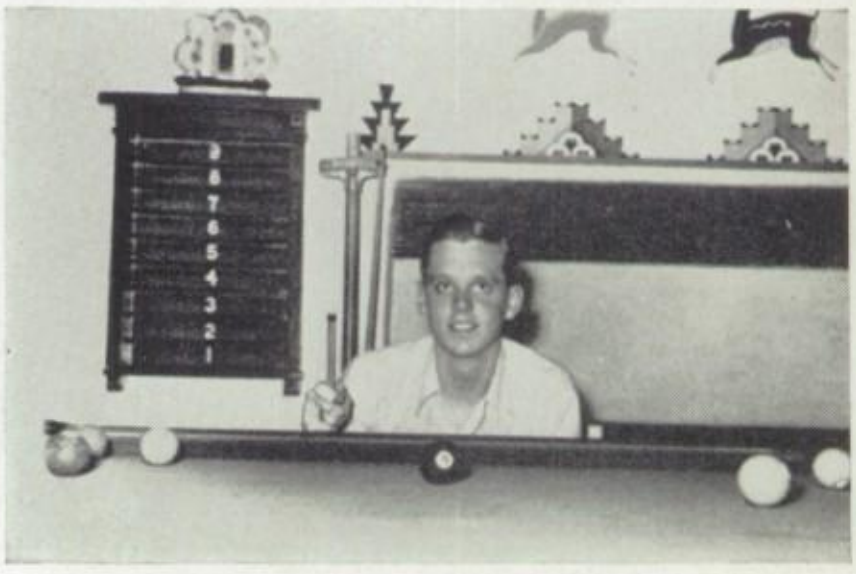
We, who were always glad to see the end of school, now looked, instead, with mixed emotions to the end of this year.



To Morg. a great guy! Hope you do well in school and in everything good luck and don't do anything I wouldn't do!

JONATHAN LEVY BAYER

Aspen, Colorado

In the fall of 1950, Jon Bayer calmly descended upon the campus from the snowy hills of Aspen. Being a quiet person, he soon blended into the form without any trouble.

While his main achievements have been scholastic, Jon has not neglected sports. In the Fourth Form he made the Track Team. Then Jon decided that the racket was his specialty, and he went out for tennis in the fall and spring. During the winter of that year he was made manager of the Pup Basketball Team, for which he received a numeral.

Jon's activities have been numerous. In the Fourth Form he worked on the "art" end of the operetta Ruddigore. This year he has been very active as the prop-manager of Trial By Jury, and has often been seen carrying mysterious looking bundles to the gym. In the Fifth Form, to offset his interests in the business end of operettas, Jon became the feature editor of the school paper, The Dane. This year he was unanimously elected as temporary Editor-in-Chief of the paper, where his guidance proved invaluable to the succeeding editor.

Jonathan Levy Bayer

The future remains somewhat of a mystery to Jon, for his interests are varied. He hopes to enter Harvard—perhaps after a year abroad.

College: Harvard.

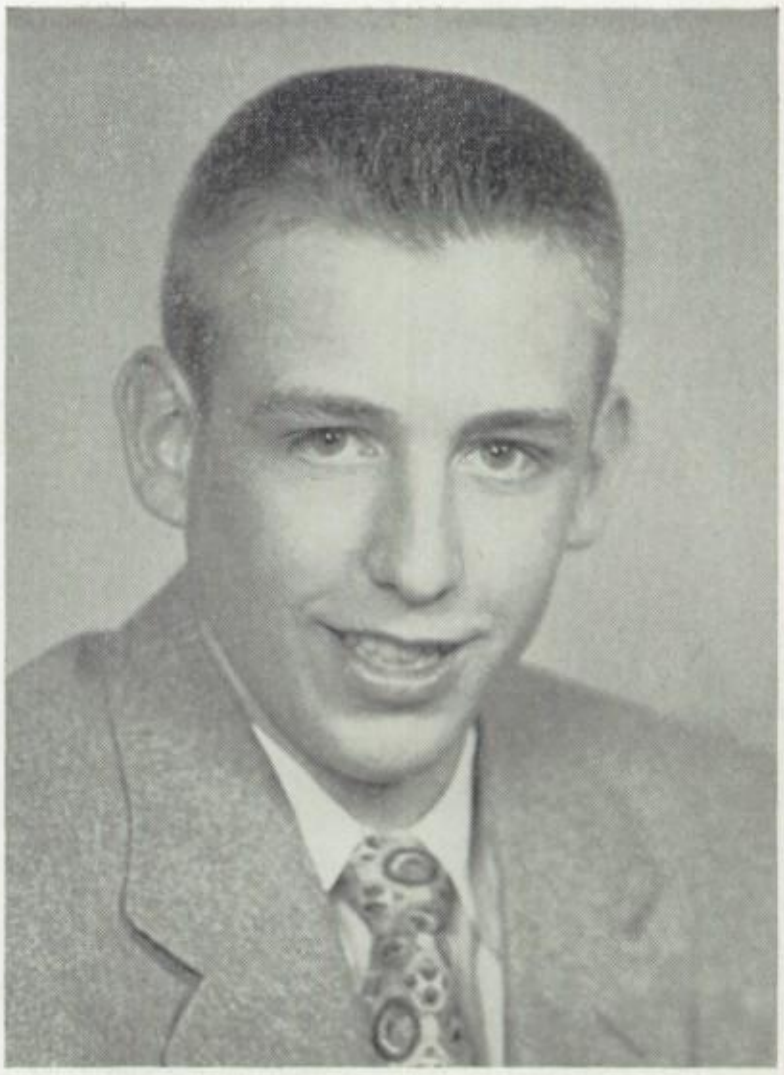
THOMAS ANTHONY BOHNEN

Winnetka, Illinois



Tom Bohnen came to Fountain Valley School in the fall of 1951 as a Fifth Former. Hailing from Chicago, he found the climate a bit different in Colorado. The first few weeks were strange for Tom, but in a short time he was looked on by his classmates as an asset to the school.

In his first year "Bo-No" participated in basketball and baseball. With his six-one of bones, he found that a center spot would be his bid to fame in basketball. Throughout the basketball season, and even after he had earned his letter, baseball was all that he would talk about. In the spring term, Tom worked his heart out on the diamond, and in a short time found himself alternating between center field and pitcher. He had a few rough games when on the mound, but did an outstanding job in his center-field spot. After receiving varsity letters in both baseball and basketball, he was voted into the Varsity Club, in which he served as secretary during his senior year.

When Tom returned to Fountain Valley in 1952 as a Sixth Former, he continued in his sports activities. He was high bucketman at right forward in basketball, and switched from center field to second base on the diamond. Besides taking an active part in athletics, "Bo-No" was chosen to be head of the common room, and Sports Editor of the Year Book.

Tom has worked hard on his studies in his two years at F.V.S. and has earned a high position in the class's academic standing.

We all feel that Tom is an outstanding fellow, and know that he will go far in the future. The best of luck to you in your life to come, Bo-No!

Favorite Sayings: "That's a dandy," "All righty," "Let's play ball," "Aren't we all?"

Take care of that horse and keep everything under control. Tonis

ANTHONY GAMBLE BONFORTE

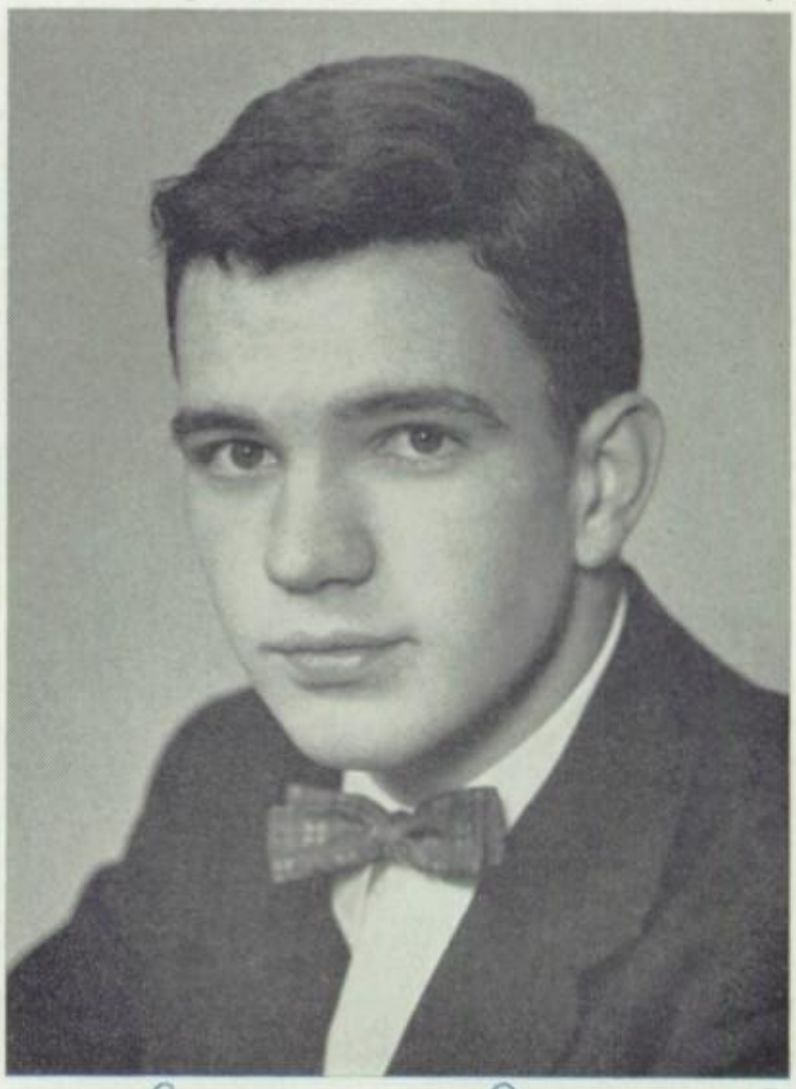
Colorado Springs, Colorado

Quietly entering the Second Form in 1948, Anthony Bonforte began what proved to be a very eventful program at F.V.S. His athletic career began rather inauspiciously because he stuck mainly to riding throughout his initial year.

Returning as a Third Former, "Tonis" roomed with MacVeagh. Again Anthony chose riding as an activity and by this time had proved himself to be an adept horseman.

Bonforte spent the greater part of his Fourth Form year at the Choate School, but returned to Fountain Valley to begin the second-to-last lap of his high school training. During this year Anthony began to blossom forth as a promising football player. He went out for hockey and participated actively in the recreational section of that sport. In the spring he went out for Gymkhana. Outside of athletics, "Tonis" helped out the Glee Club as a tenor.

Rooming with Tittle — an arrangement which has turned out very well



A. G. Bonforte

—Anthony began his Sixth Form year in fine spirit. His aggressiveness on the football team merited him a letter — an honor which he earned by dint of much hard work on the gridiron. During the spring term, he went out for Track. Tony deserves a lot of credit for his diligence in, and loyalty to, the thinclads — an up-and-coming group who are working hard to become a fine team.

Anthony's cheerful sense of humor has made him quite popular among his classmates, and we all wish him the best of luck in years to come.

Favorite Sayings: "She's gonna' come up this summer!" "Hey Tittle! Turn out that lousy light, and let's hit the sack!"

Nicknames: "Tonis," "Tonis the Bonus."

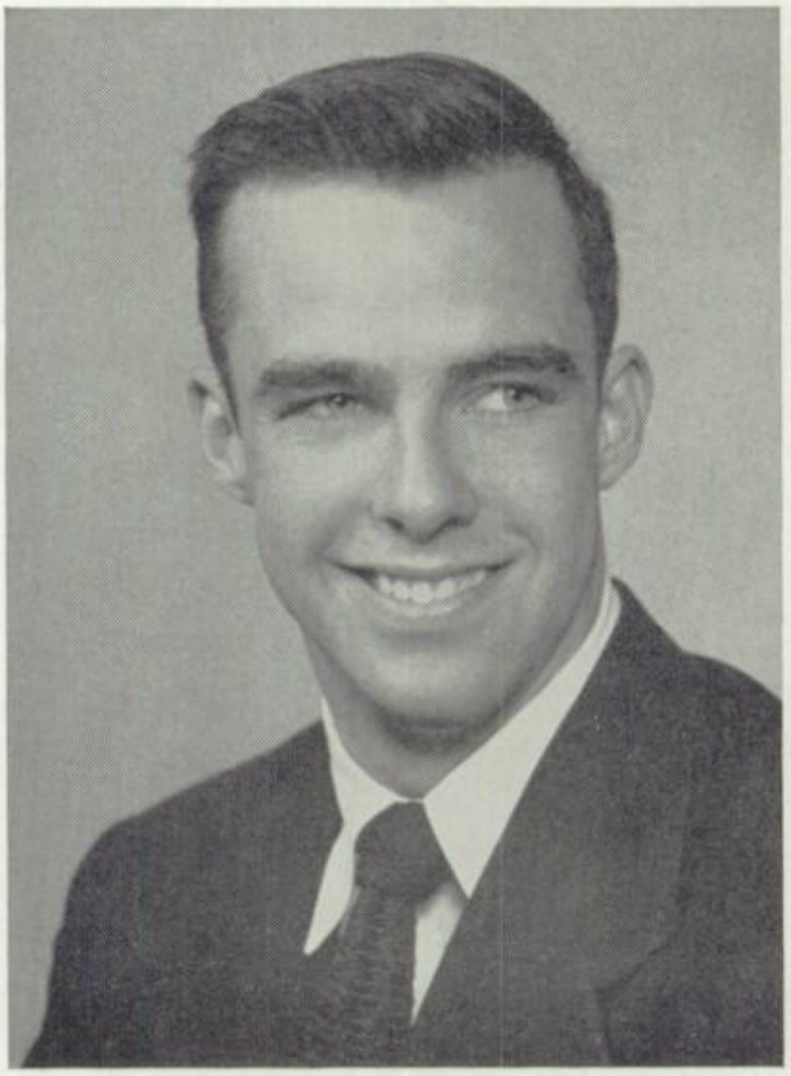
DANIEL PATTERSON CHARLTON

Denver, Colorado



In the middle of our Second Form year, Dan Charlton joined the class of '53. Since Dan was from Denver, and soon made many friends, the Third Form saw him back, as good as ever.

Dan's football talents were helpful to the Pup football team that year. While living in the hermitage the next year, Dan lent his bass voice to the halls of the dormitory. Groucho, as he was then called, played Pup football again; but was elevated to the Varsity later in the year. He served efficiently on the Dance Committee, and was active in getting dates for his formmates. The Fifth Form year saw Dan making both the Varsity football and baseball teams, and earning a letter in both. Dan did a good job on the Student Council that year, and again served on the Dance Committee.

In the Sixth Form, Dan settled down to the serious job of getting into college. He chose a Southern military college and made good grades to insure his entrance there next year. Dan played football and lettered again. As hockey season rolled around, he donned the pads to play a promising game in the nets for the Danes. In the annual operetta, Trial By Jury, Dan sang in the chorus of jurymen. Again this year, he was on the Dance Committee, and, as usual, did an outstanding job.

We know that Dan will be a success at whatever he does, and we wish him the best of luck.

Favorite Sayings: "You're pleasant. Get out!" "Anybody got anything to eat?"

Nicknames: "Laughing Gas," "Groucho."

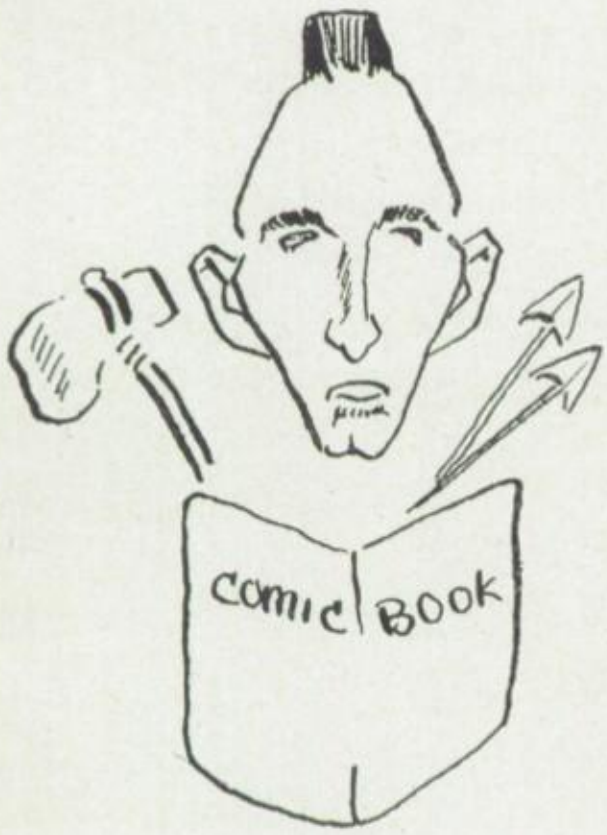
SAMUEL WILHELM COOPER
Omaha, Nebraska

In the fall of 1948 a happy-looking fellow could be seen approaching First House loaded down with a couple of Navy duffle-bags and two big feet. This was Sam Cooper, come to us through the generosity of Omaha, Nebraska. Sam made it quite clear early in the year that he had a great sense of humor . . . which we found, would sometimes get him into trouble with the all-mighty members of the Fourth Form who lived dangerously near Sam's room in those early years. His stories were a constant source of amusement for the three years that he was in First House.

"Coop" caught up to the class of '53 in the Fifth Form year. He was again seen squatting in an impossible position on top of the radiator in the common room, telling everyone about the glories of Omaha, his experiences in summer school, and the wonderful summers on Lake Superior.

In the spring of that year, Sam turned out for track. He was able to run with such speed that one could see only his torso. His legs, if you could see them at all, were in the form of a dull blur.



Omaha let Sam come back again to finish his senior year in the fall of '53. He rendered some invaluable services to Ed Bryant's work crew in the fall and winter. Come Spring, "Coop" was on the field again in a pair of sweat pants and a "T" shirt, sprinting wildly and leaping the broad jump.

Sam's graduation leaves the class a bit curious as to where he's going to sit without the common room radiator! Wherever he is, we all wish him the best of luck, and know that his sense of humor and swell spirit will send him far in life.

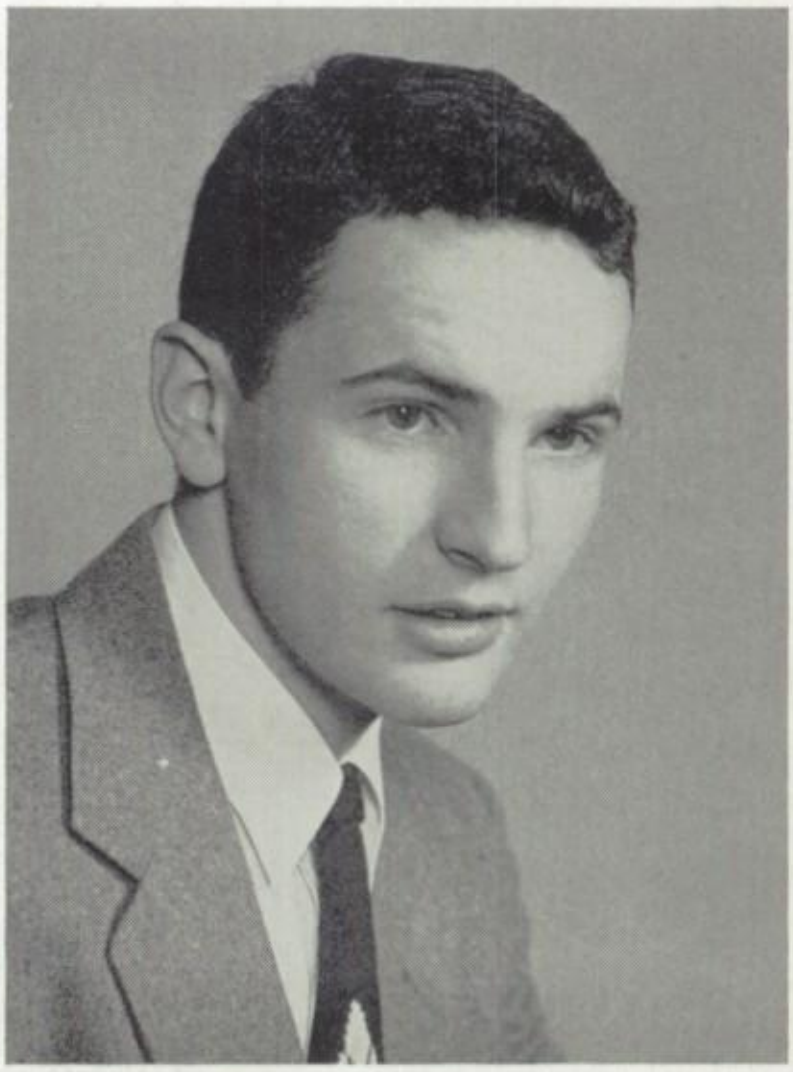
Favorite Saying: "She'll have to call me first."

Nicknames: "Crow," "Coop," "Sambo."

College: University of Nebraska.

PHILIP GARDINER COX

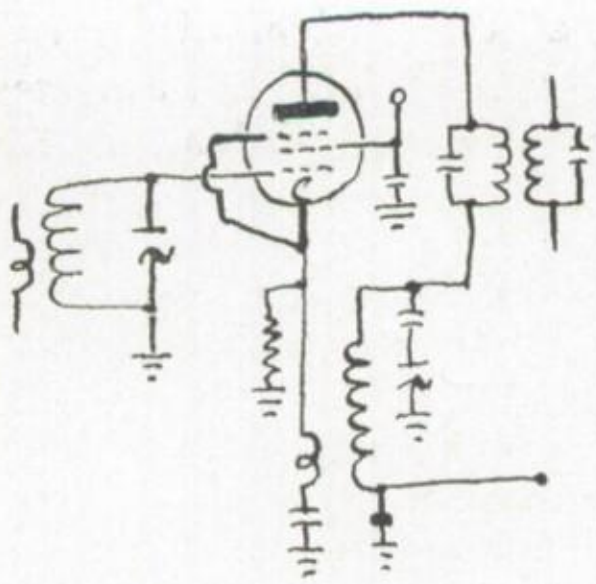
Des Moines, Iowa



The first time we met Phil was in September of our Fifth Form year. He arrived from Des Moines, followed by a small truck-load of electronic equipment. In the spring of that year, he was one of the instigators of the Penrose Society of Jazz.

In our Senior year, Phil has demonstrated his sense of humor in many ways. When our radios were on the blink, we thought it was someone using an electric shaver; actually it was only Fabulous Phil exercising his electronic ability.

Phil's interests have been divided between the Work Crew, track and riding. He gave the latter up after discovering that there were no motorcycles connected with the "Horse Cavalry." When the spring term arrived, Phil tried the track team, but soon joined the Work Crew. Last autumn he again joined Ed Bryant's crew; since then he has become one of Ed's stalwart supporters. Among other extracurricular activities, Phil has helped Mr. Kitson with Down in the Valley, and this year played the Counsel in Trial By Jury. He has amused us constantly with tales of how he got that oversized scar on his thumb, and of his first electronic accomplishment — converting an old radio to a transmitter. This year he has again shown his ability by repairing the form's radios and vics.



As Phil returns to the Land of Corn, followed by his electronic devices, the Class of '53 wish him all the luck in the world; for he will certainly be a success in whatever occupation he chooses.

Favorite Saying: "Foo."

Nickname: "Chance."

College: University of Iowa.

AYMON deROUSSY deSALES

New York City, New York

"Count" — short for Francois Bertron Raoul Aymon deRoussy deSales — is one of the most determined sleepers in the shady nook of F.V.S.

"Count" started the year off with a bang by arriving late to school this fall. The fact that he came from the big city of New York intrigued all, and he quickly became one of the class.

This past fall the "Babe" partook in the riding program. When winter rolled around, our hero became one of the numerous intramurals. In the spring he also took great interest in the Sun Tan Team, and before long was appointed co-captain. The Frog achieved his letter in the sport by spending forty hours at sun basking, and is working for his hero's badge which requires sixty hours in the sun. This spring Aymon has given his firm support to the betterment of the Work Crew.

In the field of journalism, the "Count" is outstanding. He is on the staff of the school paper, The Dane, and aspires to be New York's leading reporter.

If the "Count" settles down and makes a goal for himself, we believe he will attain it and lead a successful career. We all wish him the best of luck.

Favorite Sayings: "Watch it, I'll hit ya!" "Are you all right?" "I don't know."

Nicknames: "Count," "Scurvy," "Frog," "Pasty-face."

College: Colorado University.

JAMES ALLEN DONALDSON

Dodge Center, Minnesota

During January of 1953, we were graced with the addition of a big redhead. Jim entered F.V.S. as a Sixth Former, and in a few short weeks adapted himself to the school routine. In the winter term he devoted his spare time to the Work Crew. Mr. Kitson discovered that Jim had a good bass voice and drafted him for the operetta. During his stay here Jim did an amazing amount of riflery with Mr. Brown on the Target Range. Finally Jim decided to give his athletic abilities to the school and joined the varsity baseball team.

He claims that the only thrill he had at Fountain Valley occurred when he was injured in the eye. This little incident resulted in a ten-day stay in the hospital, but he returned to us none the worse for wear.

Jim tells us that he is a man of the outdoors; he has already shown us his skill at shooting, and we do not doubt him at all. He spends the major portion of his town permissions at the movie houses. His dormitory activities consist mainly of his residing in the common room and of listening to the soft, slow music of his victrola.

Jim has done quite well at his studies and is an ardent worker. He has made many friends with his likable personality and fun-loving nature during his stay at Fountain Valley. We are sure that Jim will succeed in life and we wish him good luck in whatever he does.

Favorite Sayings: "What will I say?" "Let's go bowl a line."

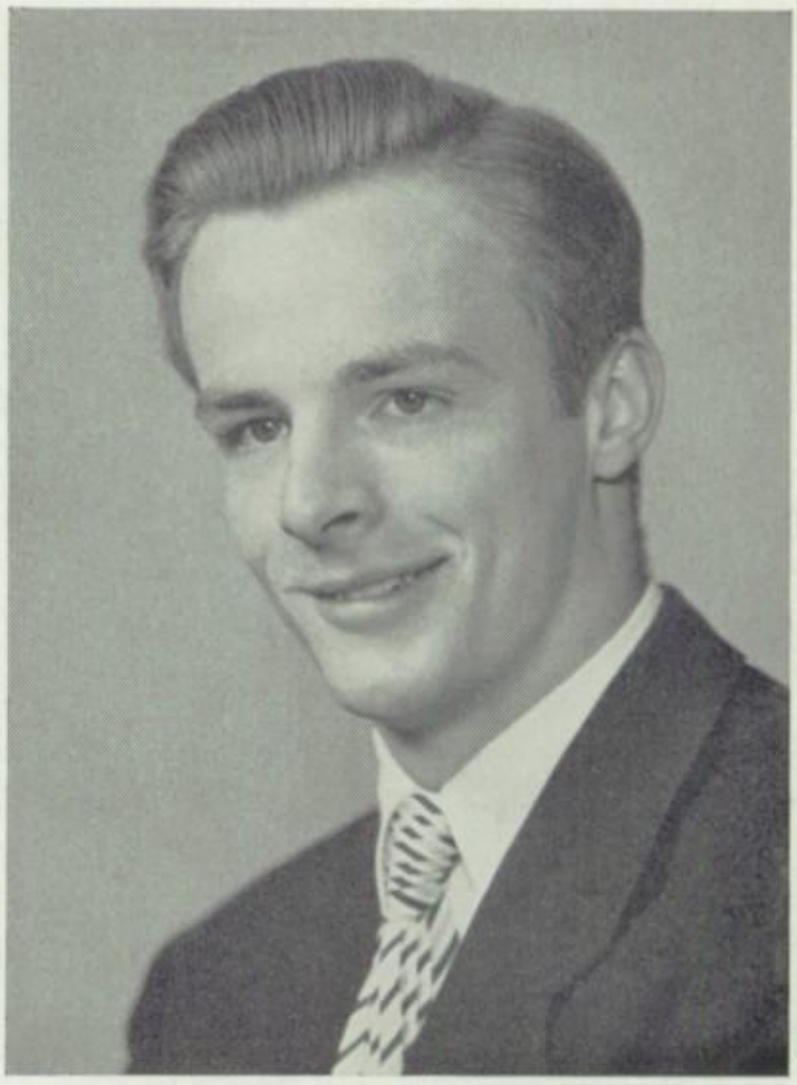
Nicknames: "The Red Menace," "Red."

College: Carlton College.

Chuck Fisk

CHARLES BURNHAM FISK

Winnetka, Illinois

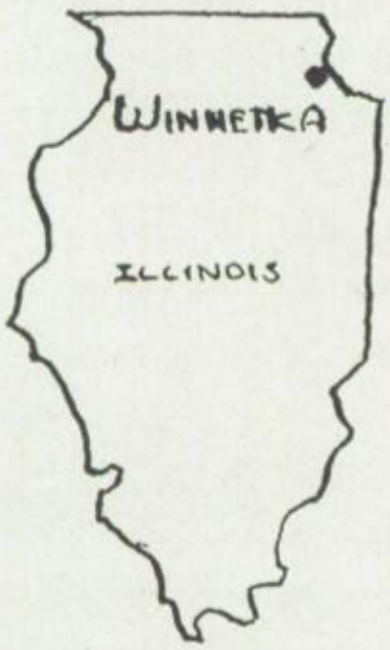


Coming from Winnetka, Illinois, Chuck Fisk entered F.V.S. in January of 1952. He enrolled in the Fifth Form and immediately adjusted himself to the school program.

During the winter of his Fifth Form year, he played on the varsity hockey team and aided the team considerably. In the spring he went out for track and received his letter.

Returning in the fall of '52 as a Sixth Former, Chuck showed great courage by consenting to be Proctor of First House, but the noise proved to be too much for him, and he moved back to the peace and quiet of Penrose after midyear exams. He has served as a member of the Student Council and as the manager of the school store.

In the field of sports, Chuck was the co-captain of the football team and sparked the team to a 4-4 season. This winter, he played defense and lettered in hockey. He proved to be an asset to the team, and was selected as the F.V.S. defenseman to play in the All-Star game against C.S.H.S. Chuck is going out for track this spring; and if he does as well in this as he has done in other sports, he should help out considerably.



Chuck's favorite pastimes are listening to jazz records, and going on town permissions, Sunday lunches, and weekends.

Chuck is well liked by the entire student body, and we wish him luck in whatever he attempts to do.

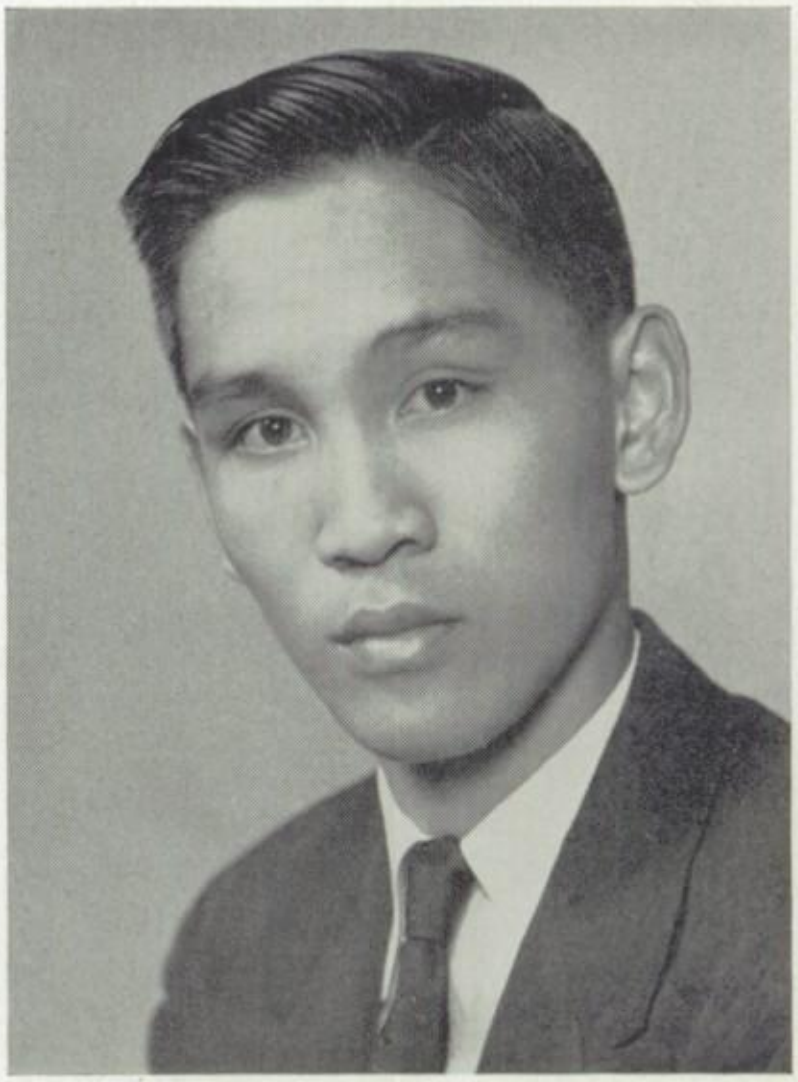
Favorite Saying: "I Don't think that's quite right!"

Nicknames: "Chuckles," "Fat Man."

College: DePauw University.

FREDERICK FUNG

Colorado Springs, Colorado



Following in the footsteps of his cousins, Robbie and Lawrence, Fred enrolled at F.V.S. in September of 1952. He soon became acquainted with school life and swung into the stride of the daily schedule. During the fall term, Fred spent his afternoons with the Tennis team, where he showed great improvement. Other afternoons were often shared with Mr. Brown and the Rifle Club. He was soon "discovered" by Mr. Kitson and sang in the Kent School Concert as a member of the Glee Club.

When baseball season rolled around, Fred proved himself a valuable left-fielder and, in addition, turned out to be a better-than-average relief pitcher. Batting "clean-up," he slugged his way around the diamond and was truly a great asset to the team. The remainder of his time has been spent holding his position on the Merit Roll.

To a swell guy and best of luck in the future years at FVS.
Fred

Hunting, fishing, boxing, and gun collecting are a few of his other interests.

Fred has been accepted at Cornell where he plans to study Civil Engineering. Although very modest, Fred attributes his wealth of good humor to the thousands of comic books that have come into his possession.

During the period of time that Fred has been at school, he has surrounded himself with a great number of friends, and we all wish him the best of luck in anything he chooses to do.

Favorite Sayings: "Let's Bowl." "But, sir, what did I do?"

Nickname: "Gus."

College: Cornell.

WILLIAM VAN DYKE GLASCOCK

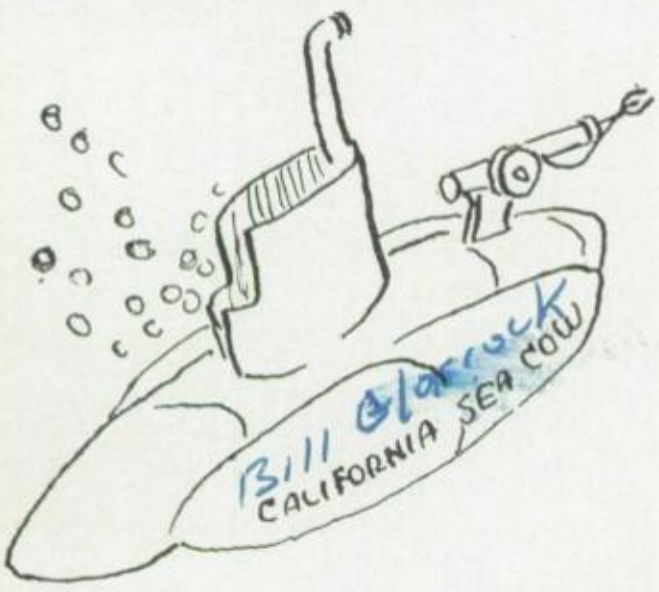
Beverly Hills, California

Bill's first year at F.V.S. was eventful. He seemed to fall right into the school spirit.

In his second year he made a hard stab at that problem of grades, and came through with flying colors. Bill ventured into athletics in his Third Form year, and showed good sportsmanship; he has been a prominent member of the basketball team, and has been on other athletic squads.

The Hermitage brings fond memories of Thursday night sings and Saturday night fun. Of course, after Christmas, things were soon changed, and Willie got down to serious work. By the end of the year he had really pulled up his grades. On the sports scene, Bill again went out for basketball. This really started his prolonged career with the team.

Best o' luck, morgan.



Next found the "Chipmunk" getting fat until one day he visited the hospital for the purpose of having his appendix removed.

The Sixth Form arrived too soon for most of the juniors, but Bill came back prepared for it. He not only made the varsity basketball team, but also was one of the few charter members of the Mountain Club. He has done a wonderful job this year in his studies, and has served on the Dance Committee and other extra-curricular activities. We all know that Bill will be a success in the college of his choice.

Favorite Sayings: "That's a Kick!" "I wish I were on a beach!"

Nicknames: "Willie," "Chipmunk."

College: Claremont.

Be good next year and Good luck

DAVID ALAN HETTINGER

Colorado Springs, Colorado

Skippy Hettinger skated into the First Form in the fall of 1947, to get off to an auspicious start. Since then nobody has been able to keep him away from the ice. Just a natural-born skater, he slid up through the forms to arrive in the Sixth as the most valuable player in the high school hockey league. Not only has Skip been the star in hockey, but he has also contributed to the football team. This boy has won nine letters in his six years here. When we think of his past years, we remember many interesting and humorous incidents in which he was involved.

We'll all remember the model airplanes that flew from dawn till dark during the days of '47, '48, and '49. The interest of model airplanes may have dwindled out; but, if you could have looked into Skip's mind in the later years, you would have seen souped-up cars of all types.

Skip, along with the only other member of the First Form still in captivity, will be remembered, for quite a while for his cheerfulness around the buildings of the campus.

In Skip's first four years here, he roomed with quite a few different boys. In his Fifth Form year his roommate was Wayne MacVeagh. In the Sixth Form he was single.

Next fall, Skip, known around here as "Ninger," or "Ningus," is going to Colorado College for one year and then to West Point to follow in the footsteps of his brother, who graduated from there in the spring of 1952.

Favorite Sayings: "No sweat, no strain; I'll never be missed!"

Nicknames: "Ninger," "Ningus," "Lopants, Jr."

College: Colorado College.

A fantastic amount of luck etc.

G. BRUCE HOWARD

Denver, Colorado

G. Bruce Howard

Bruce joined the class of '53 in the fall of his Second Form year. His activities were mostly in the field of riding, and his first year at Fountain Valley was comparatively quiet; but as a Third Former, Bruce roomed with Anthony Bonforte and life began to get more interesting for the Denverite.

"Freddy," as he has been nicknamed by his classmates, amazed everybody with his outstanding ability to play the piano. His novel rendition of "Temptation" has become a great favorite among the eager listeners who wanted him to perform in the Hacienda living room almost every night before dinner.

After the spring vacation of his Fifth Form year, Bruce traveled in Europe, and his affinity for French stood him in good stead on this journey. There were however, studies to contend with; therefore Bruce spent the next summer at F.V.S. making up the work he had missed on his European jaunt.

Returning in the fall of 1952 to complete his high-school career, Bruce came to F.V.S. with a vast fund of knowledge of foreign customs.

Bruce has not been inactive in athletics. Besides riding, he competed in pup baseball (Second Form); played tennis for three years; and went out for pup football in the Fourth Form. After a few grueling weeks of the gridiron sport, Bruce termed it a "ghastly game" and returned to the cleanliness of the tennis courts.

Singing in the 1953 operetta gave Bruce a great deal of fun.

The whole class wishes to express its thanks to Bruce for the fine party which he gave this winter for the Sixth Form at his home in Denver.

Planning to go into the field of business administration, Bruce will complete his formal education at the University of Virginia, where, we are sure, he will be very successful.

Favorite Sayings: "Ooooh!," "They're so nice to have around the house."

Nickname: "Freddy."

College: University of Virginia.

GORDON BRYTE HUGHES

Sacramento, California

In the fall of 1949 a most unusual person arrived at Fountain Valley from the sunny state of California. Answering to the name of Gordon Hughes, he walked around immersed in a loud silence. In the Fourth Form Gordo was the spark plug of the basketball team, cultivated an aviary, and was known throughout the campus as the "man with the white horse." Gordo, in the Fifth Form, began to expand in both size and logomania. This time Gordo changed sports and became one of the stalwarts of the varsity football team. In the spring term he was one of the harder workers on the Work Crew. Throughout his Fifth Form year he was in good spirits, but in the fall of "52", when he returned, the responsibilities of the Sixth Form weighed heavily, even on such capable shoulders as these. He really settled down to work, but found that the work was harder than he had thought; nevertheless he did a very creditable job. Again in the Sixth Form, Gordo was one of the beef-trust, and his aggressiveness and skill earned him a letter in varsity football. Among his many other activities, he was one of the charter members of the newly-formed Mountain Club. Gordo's ever-present determination to "hit" the books have endeared him both to his classmates and to the faculty.

Gordo has made many friends here, and we all know that wherever he goes he will continue to make friends. We know, too, that he will be a success in whatever he does. The class is looking for great things from "Oogie" Hughes.

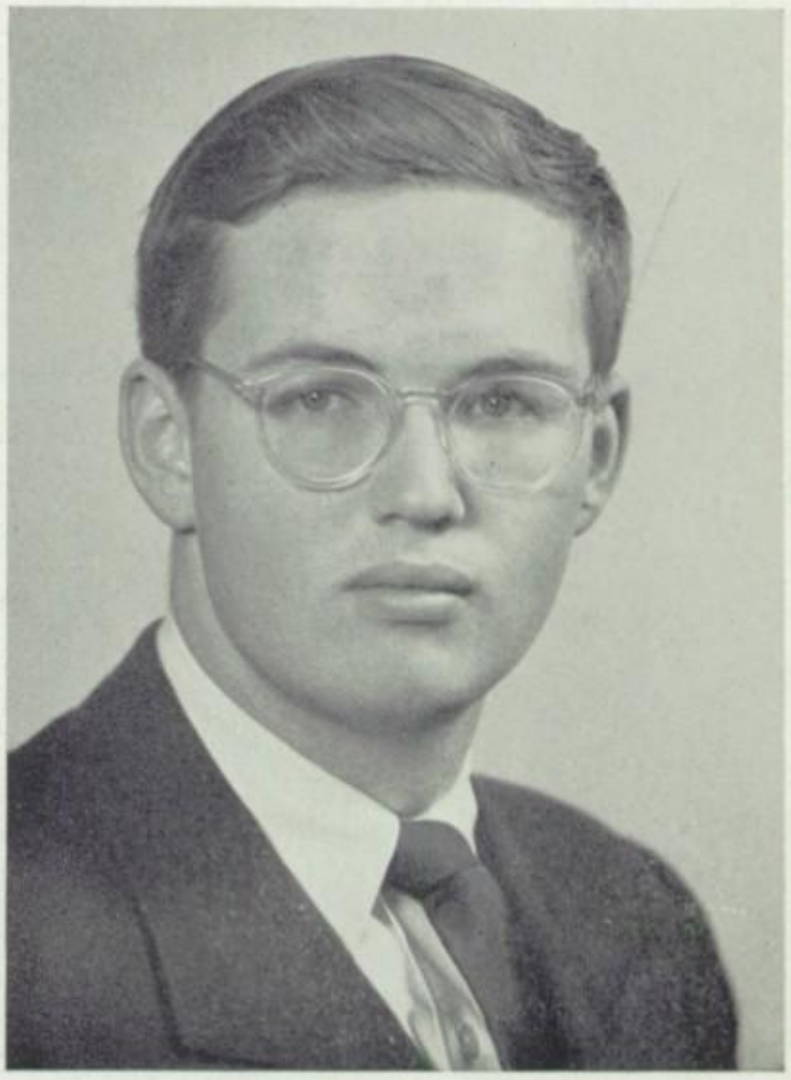
Favorite Sayings: " . . . . . "

Nicknames: "Gordo," "Oogie".

College: University of California.

JAMES KEELTY KERLIN

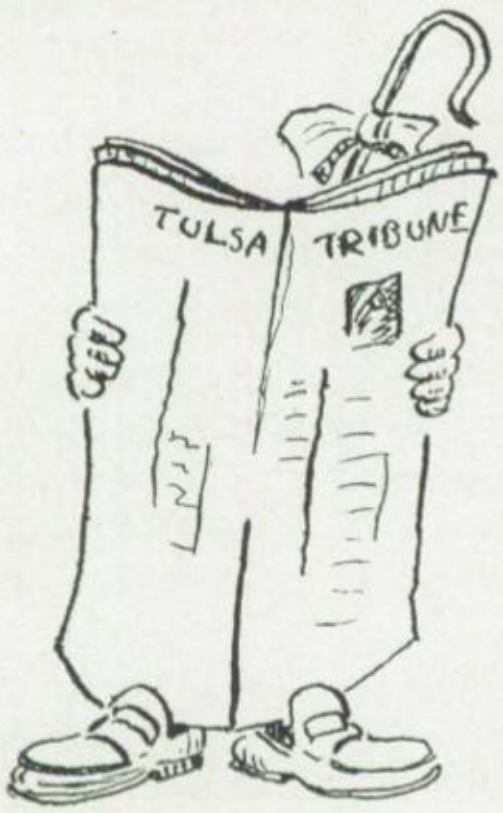
Tulsa, Oklahoma



"Big Jim" came to Fountain Valley in his sophomore year. Although he arrived late, the fact didn't seem to scare him at all. The first thing he accomplished was to become a member of the illustrious football team. He, like all the other players, benefited from the superb coaching of the late Doug Bradlee. "Kerlew's" first roommate was Henry Wise from New York. His next roommate was Pete Nolan, a car-crazy boy from the West Coast. Jim, however, not being an automotive expert, had to pull up stakes and once more look for someone to share a room with. Finally finding John Morgan (an easy-going Texan), Kerlin settled down to a peaceful life in the dormitory for the remainder of the year.

As a Fourth Former, Jim participated in football, basketball and track. By this time, "Kerlew" had established a well-founded reputation for telling tall tales about the West and about his life "down home."

On returning to Fountain Valley in 1951, Big Jim lettered in football, became manager of basketball, and did a fine job as Paddock Boss for the Gymkhana. He also toiled for the Work Crew, sang in the Glee Club, and played a leading role in Down in the Valley. His work in this production won for him the coveted F.V.S. dramatic award.



Jim roomed with Mike Tibbett in his last two years. The boisterous Tulsan returned in 1952 with the sincere desire to end his prep-school career as well as it had begun. He succeeded admirably. As co-captain of the football team, a star in Trial By Jury, and an active member of the Work Crew, Jim was conspicuous during his last year.

We are all sure that Jim will be successful in whatever field he chooses, and we wish him the best of luck.

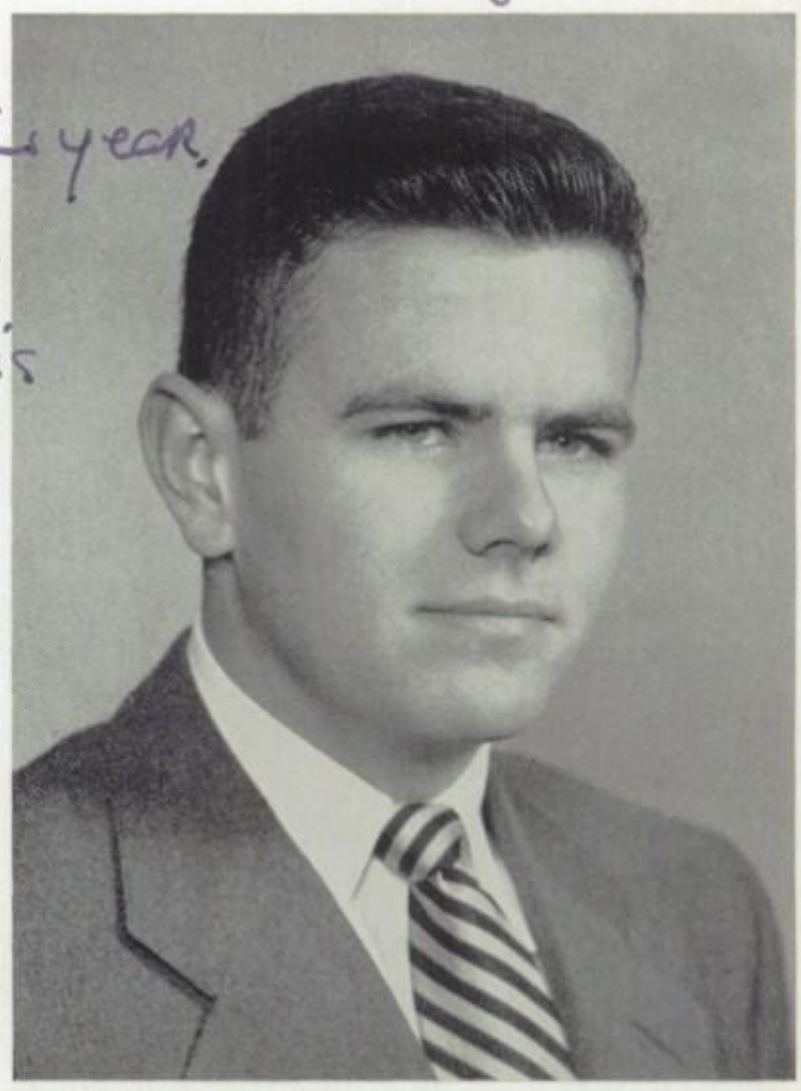
Dear Morg:. It has been real swell to have you as a friend this year. I hope you don't hold my hazing against me.

TOM JOHNSON KNORR

Wichita, Kansas



The autumn of our Third Form year saw the arrival of Tom Knorr. Robust and full of life, he made friends easily. When it was discovered that Tom was adept at preaching sermons, he was given the nicknames of "Preacher" and "Deacon." Preaching, however, was not the only activity that he engaged in. Gymkhana, singing, and knowing all the plans of the masters, are also his favorite pastimes, not to mention his mania for dancing. The "Dancing Deacon" in the Fourth Form one night decided that he had a tenor voice and immediately began to sing (with the help of Bill Glascock, his room-mate, and the two raucous gentlemen living next to him in the Hermitage) to the great consternation of the dormitory.

In the Fifth Form, Tom was in the Glee Club and took part in that year's operetta, Down in the Valley. He also went out for football and won his letter, but was unable to play in 1952. This year Tom lent his resourcefulness to the Hockey team by being its manager, and also won one of the leading parts in Trial By Jury.

Tom, during his sojourn at F.V., has been a great asset to the class of 1953, and we wish him good luck and fortune wherever he may go.

Favorite Sayings: "And now brethren;" "Oh, that's dreadful!"

Nickname: "Preacher."

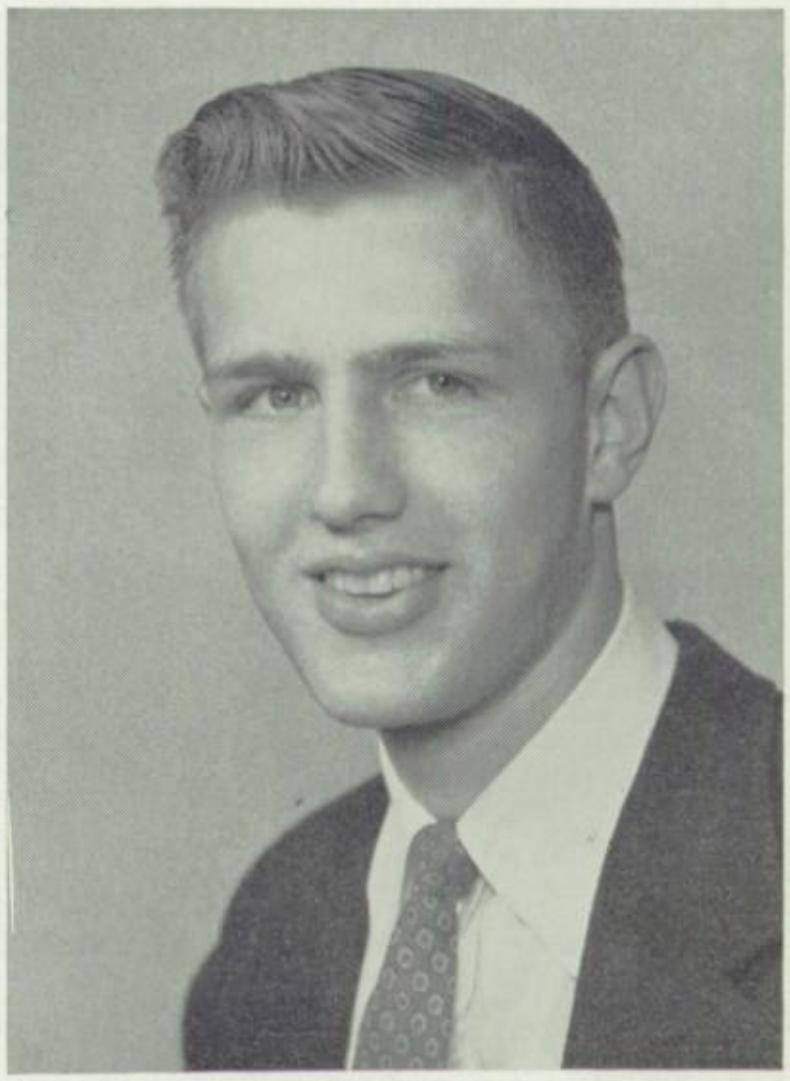
College: University of Kansas.

It has been a wonderful time this year. As I have told you, you are the leader of your form. It is up to you to lead them in the Right things. I know you can do it well. You have a good head, and you will. I know be the top man in your class. I will sure miss you very much, and I sure hope that I see you again sometime So maybe this is not good-bye for good, but just a little so long. Tom

Tom Kurth

THOMAS CHRISTIAN KURTH

Milwaukee, Wisconsin



Thomas C. Kurth arrived at Fountain Valley as a senior in the fall of 1952. New to the school, he adjusted himself with ease to its routine. Tom tried hard to overcome this as can be shown in the fact that by the spring term he had succeeded in having one of the most "outstanding" rooms in the dorm. Tom is a firm believer in the theory that every man's room is his castle.

Since his arrival Tom has been extremely active in sports. During the fall term he went out for football and alternated between guard and fullback, although he was originally a lineman. His running ability on the gridiron was immediately recognized by his team-mates who soon dubbed him "crazy-legs." The coach, too, recognized him as a good athlete, and Tom was part of the first-string team — a fact which guaranteed him a letter. In the winter he played hockey as a defenseman. In spite of his inexperience in the game, Tom managed to earn his second letter. Track was chosen for his sport in the spring term.

Tom has a love for the outdoors as well as for sports. He likes camping and climbing, and is quite a ski enthusiast. No sooner does the snow begin to fall, than Tom is all over himself to get outside onto a pair of skis. Motor-boat racing has the same effect on him. Many times he is heard affectionately reminiscing about the thrills of riding his boat, 'Gabe,' on the water. He is probably one of the fastest boatmen around the Wisconsin lakes and prides himself on this reputation.

Tom's interest is in engineering. After graduation he hopes to go to a school of engineering and make a career in that field. Tom will be missed when he leaves; for his future, we all wish him the best of luck.

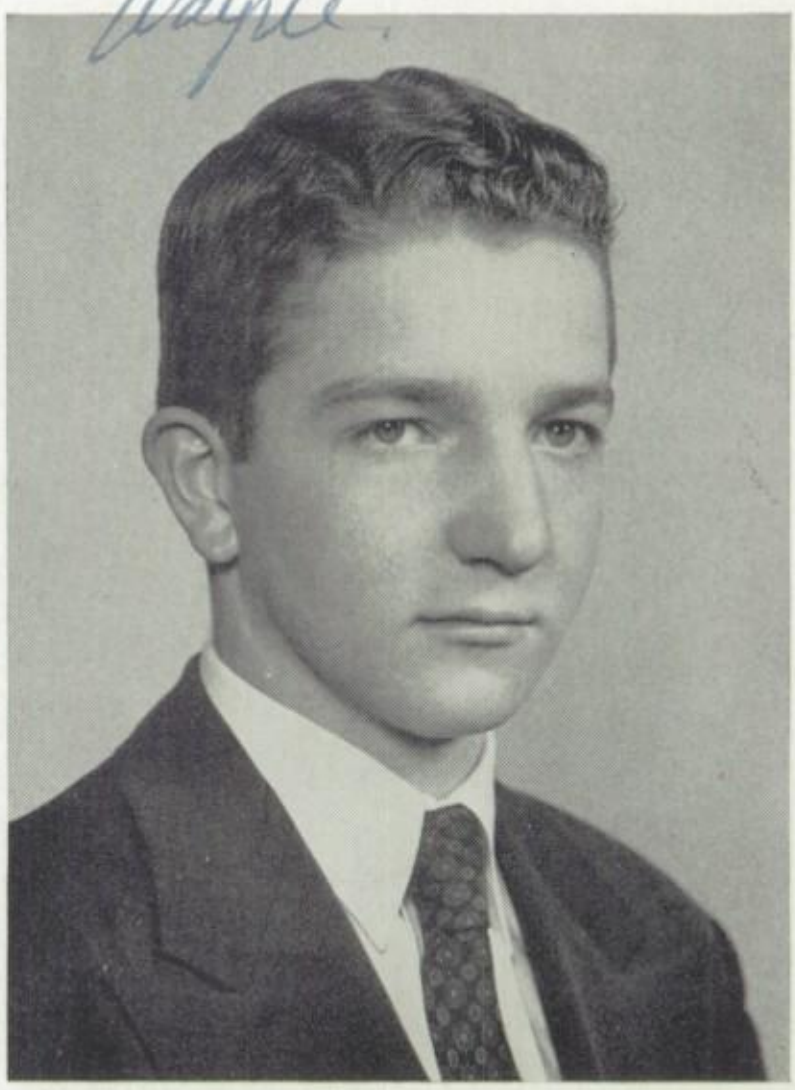
STUART WAYNE MACVEAGH

Colorado Springs, Colorado



Arriving in 1949 as a Third Former, Wayne rode quietly down to the stables, and practically lived there for the rest of the year. "Squeege" embarked on his career at F.V.S. by sharing the distinction of having one of the few triple rooms in school history. His companions in this complex arrangement were Charlton and Hettinger. These three probably would have finished the year in the same blissful spirits with which they started it, but for one small thing — Mac Veagh tried his best to turn their lodgings into a large scale tackroom! And so it came to pass that Wayne, loaded down with saddles, bridles, halters and various other cowboy paraphernalia, moved off to finish the year by rooming with Bonforte.

Wayne, with his horse, returned in 1950 as a Fourth Former. He began as Alderson's roommate, but once more was forced to leave, and finished by living with Hettinger. This last arrangement proved to be a very satisfactory one, for the two Coloradoans stuck through the remainder of their Fifth year.

MacVeagh's activities have been mostly concerned with the field of horsemanship. He rode in the annual Gymkhana for each of his four years, and captained the squad for two years running. He also has achieved the greatest honor a Fountain Valley rider is able to obtain — he became a Horseman in his Fifth Form year. Continuing his outdoor activities outside of school, Wayne has been an enthusiastic wolf-hunter in the Black Forest for the past two years.

But in addition to riding, Wayne took an active part in Hockey in his Fifth and Sixth Form years. As a skilled, hard-skating defenseman, "Sack" lettered twice in the ice sport.

Wayne plans to go into ranching after graduating from college. We are sure that he cannot fail in his chosen field.

Favorite Sayings: "What we need around here is efficiency!" "I guess I'll go down and feed my horse."

WILLARD JAMES MOORE, JR.

Denver, Colorado

Willard was at F.V.S. only a few days in the fall of 1951 before he came down with an illness that required his being returned to Denver for treatment. At the end of three weeks, however, he was back at school setting up his bird snares that intrigued everyone until "Gordo" Hughes stepped into one of them on a dark night. In the winter term he went out for basketball and played well on the B team, seeing even some varsity action. It was at this time that he acquired the nickname "Rabbit" because of his gullibility. When he returned to school after an eventful spring vacation, Will easily secured for himself a spot behind the plate on the baseball team. Playing every inning of every game, he won his letter, and was assured of the same position on this year's team.

Back at Fountain Valley after a summer of working, "Rab" found himself rooming with Pete Taylor whom he almost drove to distraction with his aversion to closed doors and with his hat. In the fall he lettered at center in football and was admitted to the Varsity Club. After Christmas he was kept busy with basketball, being sports editor of the paper, and being Editor-in-Chief of the Year Book. We're all sure that "Rabbit" will shine in his catching duties this spring in baseball, as he does in everything he attempts. Every person in the class of '53 has profited by his winning smile, and by his ready humor. We wish him the best of luck.

Favorite Sayings: "Muh!" "O.K.," "Dad," "I'll tear him limb from limb."

Nickname: "Rabbit."

JOHN SNYDER MORGAN

Dallas, Texas

When the class of '53 began its Fourth Form Year, John Morgan was discovered creeping down the halls of First House followed by a Texas wind, and in his hands he carried boxes of pills. That year he roomed with a variety of roommates including: Mike Tibbett, Tom Pabst, and Jim Kerlin. He became famous throughout the campus for his calculations on the window shades so that at exactly five minutes after seven the sun would hit his roommate in the eyes. His one goal has seemed to be the cultivation of hirsuteness.

When John returned for his Fifth Form Year and the peace and quiet of Penrose, he brought with him his fabulous collection of various types of hair tonic. His unique laugh could often be heard resounding through the halls. In the fall term, he sang in Mr. Kitson's glee club and was active in tennis. In the winter he and Dan Worth inaugurated the Work Crew which has become a regular part of the school's activities. He went out for the operetta, Down in the Valley, in which his deep voice made quite an addition to the base section.

Returning for the final year, John and Chuck Fisk found themselves as Proctors of First House; but with mid-year exams in the offing, John returned to Penrose and roomed with Phil Rahm. In the fall and winter terms he was active in the Work Crew and became track manager in the spring. He was also manager of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, Trial By Jury, and did a commendable job. John's quick wit and ready smile have endeared him to the whole class, and we know he will succeed in whatever he attempts.

Favorite Saying: "You're terrible."

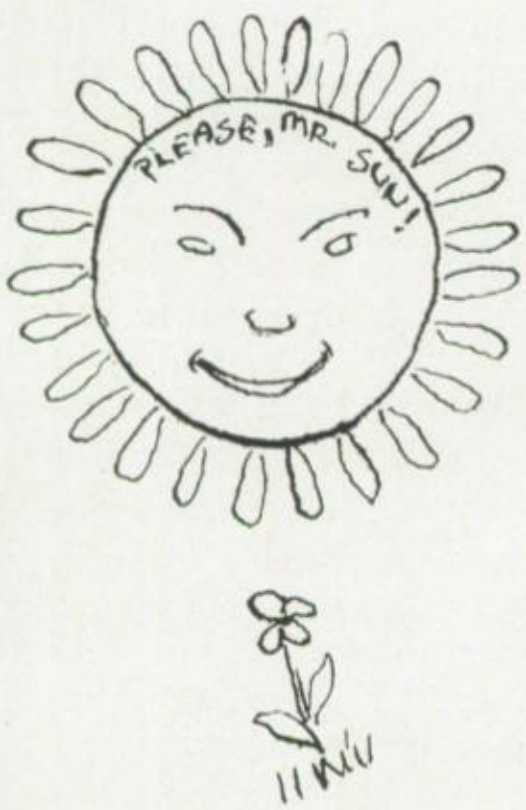
PHILLIP LAMBERT RAHM

Grosse Pointe, Michigan

When the Senior Class assembled this year, a certain character named Phil Rahm was found sitting in the Sixth Form common-room.

In the fall of 1950, Phil arrived at Fountain Valley. It wasn't long before he showed the Fifth Form that he could play cards as well as they could — if not better. Last year Phil roomed with Pete Balding. In '52-'53 he roomed alone, except for the latter part of the year, when he doubled with John Morgan.

In sports Phil has earned many letter awards. The first year Phil was here he made the second line in football and played tennis in the spring. It seems that in the Fifth Form Phil started the Sun Tan Team, of which he now is president. It is known to all that this is the hottest sport that he plays. Both last year and this Phil has lettered in football, and also has played hockey for two years. Wherever Phil applies himself, he does an admirable job.



For two years now, he has been on the Sixth Form Committee. But this is not all; he is head of the Dance Committee and does an excellent job of choosing good-looking "Gals" for bewildered stags. The most important task that Phil has handled is the Year Book. He, along with Pete Taylor, is responsible for the advertisements in this publication.

Yet, beyond all these material achievements, Phil's greatest gift to the school has been his morale-lifting sense of humor.

Favorite Sayings: "Haven't you ever seen those guys?" "I hate hot-rods!" "Wake up."

ROBERT ANDERSON RAHM

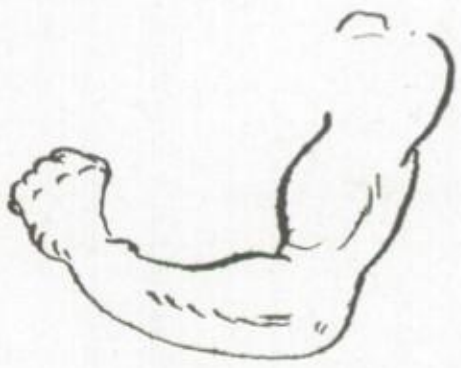
Grosse Pointe, Michigan

With his patch of blonde hair painstakingly mussed for that "casual look," Bob Rahm entered Fountain Valley in the fall of 1951 as a member of the Fifth Form. This massive mound of mighty muscle, by virtue of his well-thought-out opinions, soon proved himself to be a cheerful companion to his classmates.

One's first thought on seeing Bob probably would be "athletic." During his stay at F.V.S. Bob has more than justified that opinion. In the Fifth Form, as the number-one fullback on the football team, he utilized his power to great advantage. A leg injury, unfortunately, sidelined "Bubba" for most of the 1952 season. His playmaking ability in basketball earned for him a starting berth on both the '52 and '53 varsity teams. "Rapid-Robert" quickly became the first-string pitcher on the baseball team, and the school has counted on him heavily again this year.

Voted into the Varsity Club as a Fifth Former, Bob was elected president of that group for his Sixth Form year.

Once he was called "Yummy!" And "Yummy" he has been called ever since. This remarkable fellow, however, is unaffected by such admiration. He has eyes for only one lass, and like every little breeze, he just whispers, "Louise."



Academically, Bob is a hard worker, and, at long last, the many hours spent over the books have begun to pay off.

Because of his practical mind, his instinctive sense-of-humor, and above all, his extraordinary good nature and ability to get along with people, Bob, we are sure, will meet with success and happiness wherever he goes.

Favorite Sayings: "I'm graceful," "Guess I'd better go write to Louise," "Excuse me while I flex."

Nicknames: "Yummy," "Bubba," "Rapid Robert," "Tarzan."

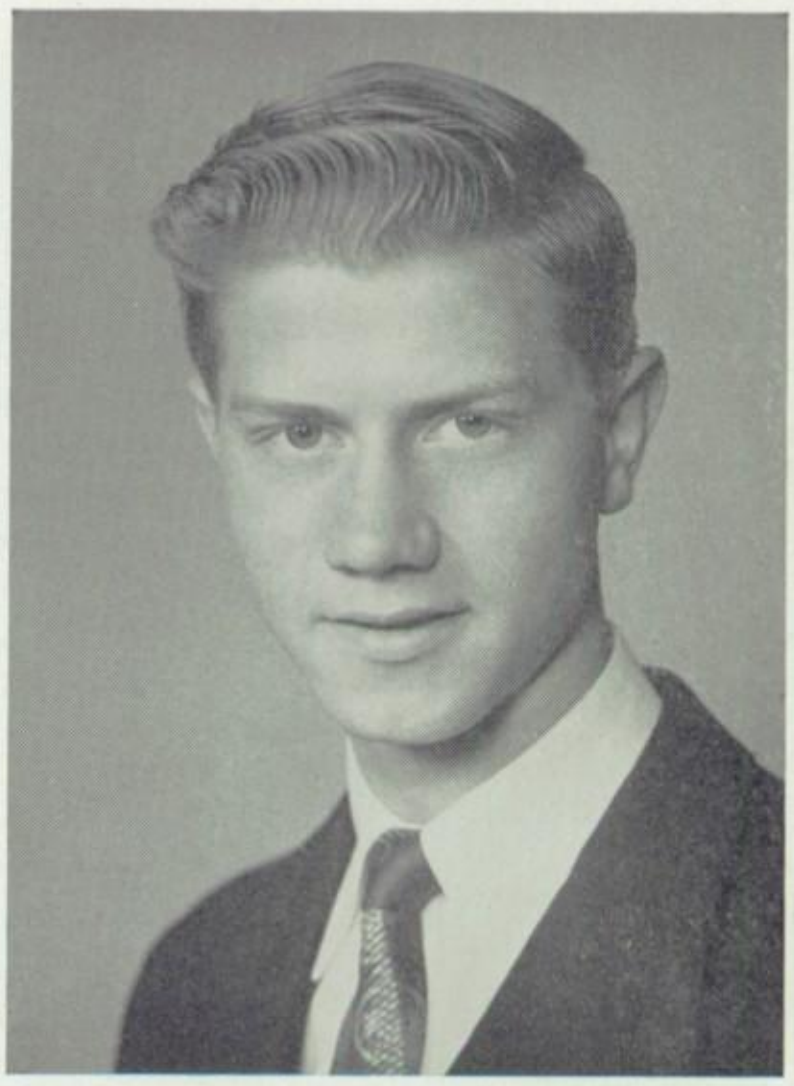
I hope the skiing goes well next year and I hope you can do some climbing. Robert Service

ROBERT CORR SERVICE

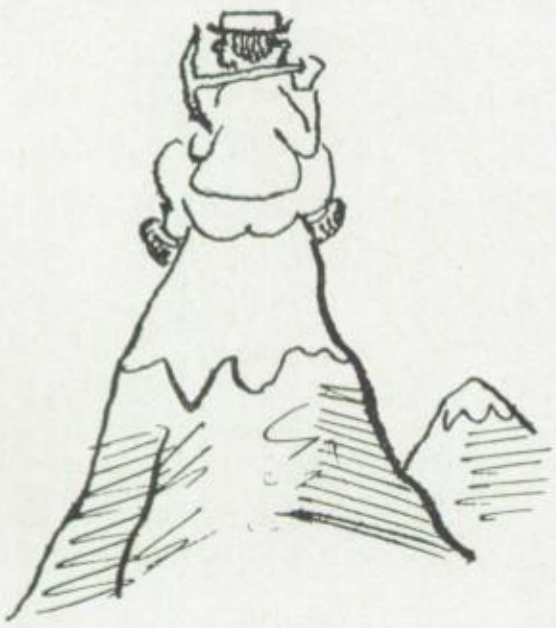
Colorado Springs, Colorado



Bob arrived at F.V.S. in our Third Form year, took one look around, and decided that the school needed a new government. From then on, Bob has never failed to be either on the Student Council or on one of the dormitory committees. Although this is a notable achievement in itself, Bob has gone on to earn the reputation of being one of the hardest workers in the form.

In the four years that "Diz" has been with us, he has always been in the middle of the form's activities. Half-way through the Fourth Form year, Bob was assigned to live with Glascock, a combination that has not broken up for two and a half years.

Bob again came into the lime-light on the hockey team in his Fifth and Sixth Form years when he earned letters in the sport. Aside from this, he went on to earn another letter for his excellent job of managing the football team this year. For the last half of this year, Bob and his roommate have moved over to their former haunts to rule First House with an iron hand.



Because of his inherent love of the outdoors, Bob has spent many happy hours in the mountains, either hanging on to a cliff with his fingernails or merely strolling around. As a result of this, Bob has been the nucleus of the Mountain Club this year. Because of his careful planning, this club should flourish in the years to come.

Because of his common sense and levelheaded thinking, it will be impossible for Bob to go wrong in later life.

Favorite Saying: "You bet your Booties!"

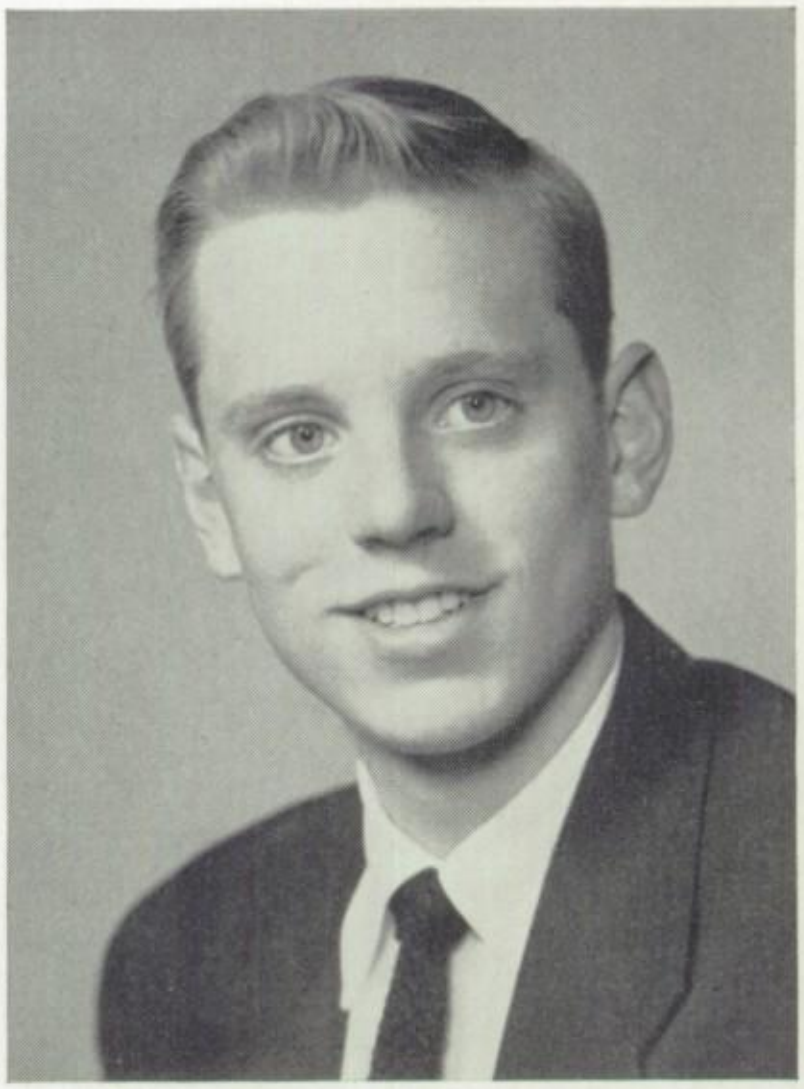
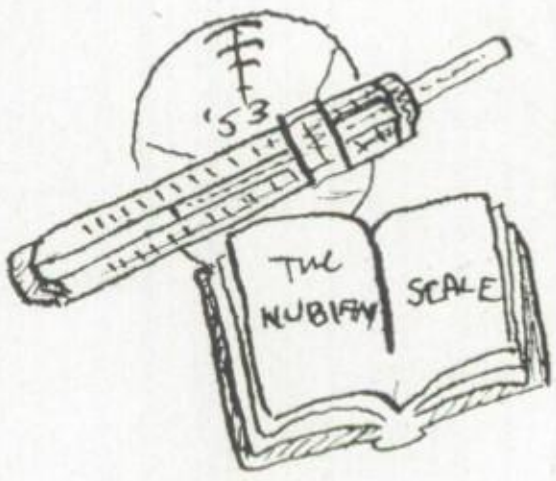
PETER ALAN TAYLOR

Denver, Colorado



Pete arrived on campus at the beginning of his Fifth Form year. Like all new boys, he was somewhat awed by his surroundings, but soon adapted himself to his new environment. Near the first of the year, our young hopeful went into training for football. He went out for end, but found the competition of Dave Maytag and Bill Cheney a little too tough. Undaunted, he stuck it out at guard for the rest of the season and added "depth" to the team. After a month of lolling about, he again struck out on the straight and narrow. Basketball was in season; he made the grade, and soon was a varsity guard. He was one of the three juniors to receive a letter at the winter athletic banquet. Along with his extra-curricular and athletic activities, "Tylo" amazed everyone with his genius for math and practically all his other studies. He was, as well, a sports writer for the paper. As the spring term rolled around, "Tylo" was again bitten by the bug of industry. He went out for baseball. Although he failed to land a berth on the starting nine, he gained the admiration of his team-mates for his stick-to-itiveness. At the end of a glorious spring term, Pete bade a fond adieu to these hallowed walls and made his way back to Denver and the "ranch" for the summer.



With more self-assurance, he found himself faced with another, but final, year at F.V.S. He found himself rooming with "Rab" Moore; but, from the inauspicious start, great things were to come. "Tylo" again went out for football, and this time his efforts were rewarded. Playing almost every position in the line, he received his letter and was voted into the Varsity Club. He also went out for basketball again, and found himself in a position of responsibility — he was elected captain of the team. His ability to get down to work has proved to be even better this year, and it looks as if he is headed toward a successful career in engineering. Wherever he goes, he has the best wishes of the class of '53. Good luck, "Tylo!"

Favorite Saying: "Shut the door, Rab!"

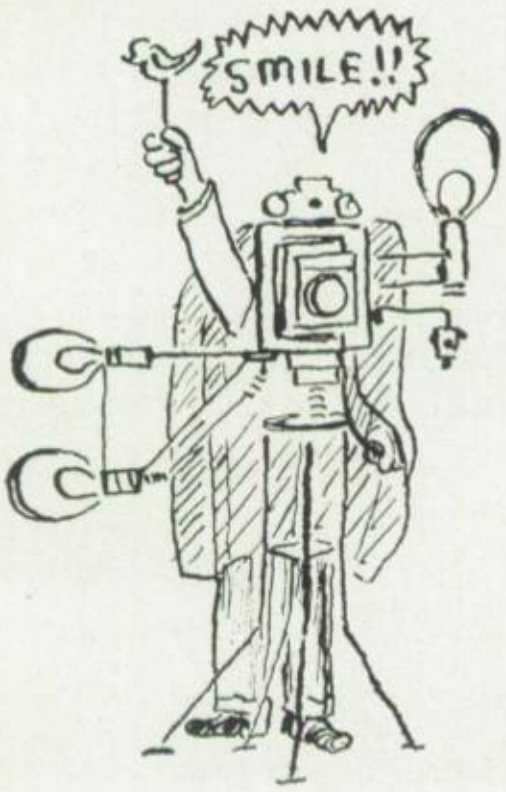
MICHAEL EDWARD TIBBETT

Naples, Florida

In the fall of 1948, The Fountain Valley School was graced by Michael Tibbett — truly a "man of destiny." Mike earned the nickname of "Melon Fuzz" in his Third Form year by virtue of a rather unbecoming crew-cut. Making an instant hit in First House, Mike's popularity has followed him ever since.

Born in California, "Fuzz" has lived in New York and Florida. One of the best-traveled men in the school, he has visited such areas as France, Jamaica, the Dominion Republic and Hawaii, thus acquiring that continental touch.

Mike has been extremely active in the student government. As a member of the Fifth Form, he was on the Dorm Committee, and in the Sixth Form he did an outstanding job as President of the Student Council. He also did a characteristically fine job as Photographic Editor for the Year Book. What's more, he has performed well in the Glee Club and three school operettas. His efforts in these fields earned him a second nickname — "Conscientious Mike."



A versatile mathematician, Mike is currently working on his Theory of Probability as applied to dates.

Although not naturally inclined in the ways of the West, Mike has spent some time at El Rancho Lido, and has enjoyed visiting Sheridan, Wyoming. Among summer jobs, "Fuzz" counts many lucrative forms of employment including a strike-it-rich bottom-scraping job at a Florida boat shop, and his work at El Rancho Lido where he made a pretty penny. On the school Rifle Team, of which he is Captain, he has earned the rank of Expert Rifleman, one of the highest awards in the division.

Mike plans to be a doctor, and we all wish him the greatest success in his chosen field.

Favorite Saying: "Counsel meeting at five; Ah?"

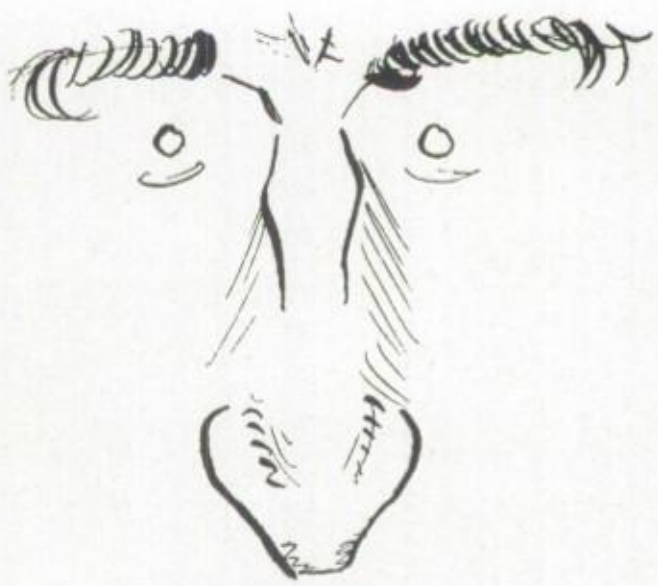
DAVID ERNEST FREMONT TITTLE

Winnetka, Illinois

F.V.S. was blessed by Dave Tittle's arrival in the fall of 1950. He immediately found his place in the Fourth Form and, participating in football and the other major sports, established a firm and lasting friendship with all of us. Dave did well in his studies because he was (and is) a hard worker. The Fifth Form found him rooming with Dan Charlton. That fall Dave played and lettered in Varsity Football; in the spring he filled in behind the plate on the baseball team. During that year a certain person must have been carrying on a paper drive back in Winnetka, as Dave sent off his contributions religiously. But his grades held up, and the "Chicago Kid" finished his second year at F.V.S. in good standing.

Last fall, the quarterback position was again graced by Dave who snagged his second honors there. Aiming at the stars — the medical profession — Dave doggedly hit the grind again, and at the same time caused a slight tremble in the school by means of "Tittle Talk" in the school paper, The Dane. Roommate and classmates alike are frequently reminded of the eighth wonder of the world on the tip of Lake Michigan by our claim to artistic glory, all of which we grant him (and there is a lot of it, too).



Best of luck, Dave from the class of '53.

Favorite Sayings: "Now, in Winnetka," "That German Shepherd is the best dog you'll ever see!" "Luck to Penny," "Hey, let's hit the sack early to-night, okay?"

HENRY ULRICH WISE

Frenchtown, New Jersey

Henry "Rick" Wise made an inauspicious entrance into the halls of F.V.S. In fact, it wasn't rightly known whether he was here or not, until his deep baritone permeated into the far corners of First House. It is generally believed that Rick's singing career started one evening when Jim Kerlin threw him out of his room three times in a row, head first. It was soon realized that Rick was a "drugstore cowboy," and an addict to hillbilly songs; but Rick cowboyed his way successfully to a prominent place on the riding team, placing well in the 1952 Gymkhana.

Henry also holds a place among the school's scholastic immortals, being a constant guest of the Honor Roll. To top his fine scholastic achievement, he has taken on the job of editing the school newspaper; is a main stay of the Glee Club; and has been elected Activity Editor of the Year Book. He has also been in two operettas, Down in the Valley and Trial By Jury.

His ambition is to be either a doctor or a lawyer, with journalism as a stand-by. Besides wanting to be a good rider, he wants to be a good skier. We are going to be very sorry to see Rick leave; but we ought to warn him to confine his singing to operettas, or else someone might find that it would be advisable to send Rick back West.

Favorite Sayings: "Good morning, Mr. Spock." "What's that again???"

Nicknames: "Hank," "Tex."

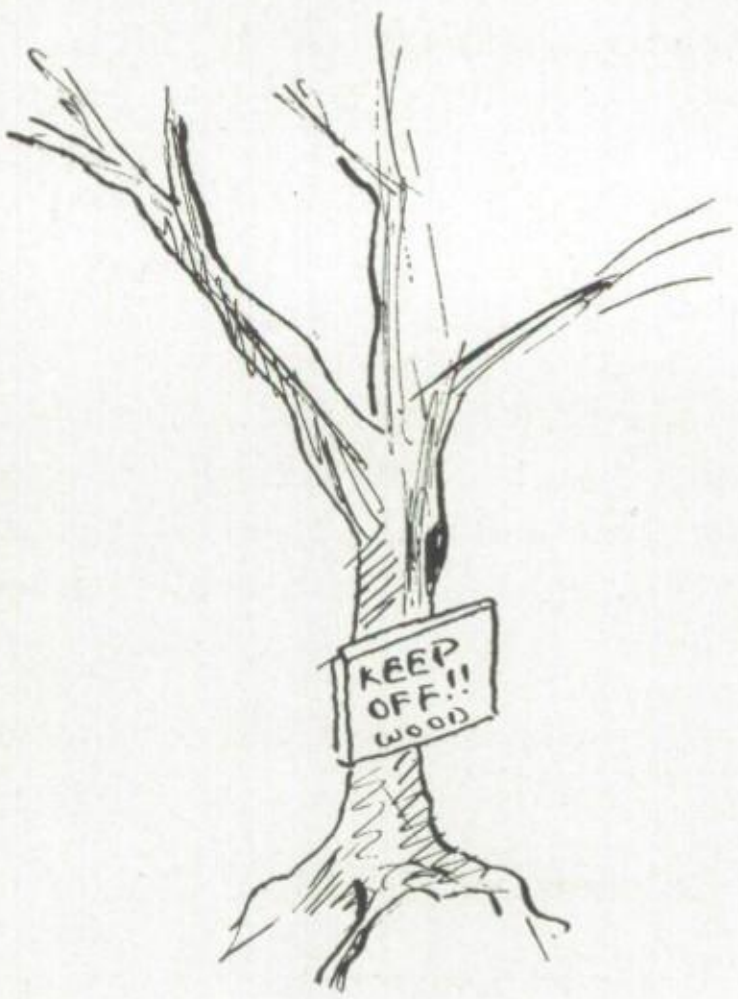
College: Dartmouth.

ROBERT MATHESON WOOD, JR.

Sheridan, Wyoming

One of the six-year members of the graduating class, Woody is almost like a fixture around Fountain Valley. In fact, in his early days, the school shop seemed to hold most of Bob's interest. He was always making some odd thing for his room.

The Third Form year saw him take part in the school operetta, Pinafore. When the Fourth Form year rolled around, Woody made his way toward the Rifle Range. This was his main activity for the year. This sport continued through the Fifth Form year, and, in addition, Woody made regular trips to Boulder. He then turned the shop over to the carpenter, and proceeded to work with Mr. Brown in the lab on Saturday afternoons. Again this fall we found Woody back for his last year. He participated in the Work Crew, skiing, and another school operetta, Trial By Jury. His favorite extra-curricular activity was reading all the mail which he received from Sheridan, Wyoming. In the spring he became one of the promising players on the Tennis Team.



Bob hopes that next year he will go East, where, no doubt, he will make a successful life for himself.

Favorite Saying: "Oh, those dried prunes!"

Nicknames: "Woody," "Woodrow," "Squaw-man."

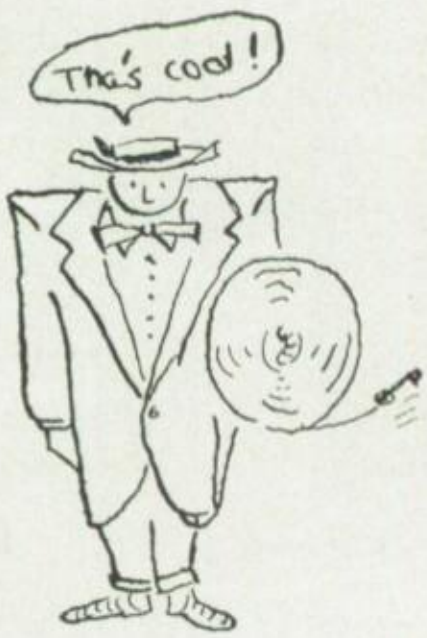
DANIEL FISHER WORTH, III

Albuquerque, New Mexico

In the fall of 1951, Dan joined the ranks at Fountain Valley. Someone immediately noticed that he resembled a comic-strip character — hence his nickname, "Harold Teen." Being an intellectual member of our form, Dan has a large library of books. During his Fifth Form year "Harold" could be seen down on the football field sparking the grid team. Wielding a mean paddle, he challenged all comers, and he became the "Champ" ping-ponger at F.V.S. In the spring of '52, Dan and John Morgan started the Work Crew, which soon became a school institution. By giving the Work Crew and the Volley Ball Squad an impetus, "Harold" has helped both of these become a part of the school life.



When the "Navy" came back for his Sixth Form year, he became a member of the letter-a-day club. The letters died away at the end of the fall term, but in the winter new epistles filled his mail box. Despite all of this, Dan had managed to remain aloof from the school dances.

The University of Virginia is "Harold's" choice for next year. We know that Dan will make his college years a success, and our best wishes go with him.

Favorite Saying: "Man, dig that crazy car."

Nickname: "Harold Teen."

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

As the summer of 1952 came to an end, the members of the Student Council gathered at Mr. Poor's home for a short briefing on the coming school year. There was to be one main departure from an old school tradition: sixth formers would wait on tables.

There has been excellent cooperation between the student body and the council; and this fact has proved to be of the utmost importance to the progress of the school during the year. The year's accomplishments have been of a varied sort; they have included the following: a new system of varsity awards; a plan for school holidays; a standard church program; a new basis for week-ends and town permissions; and a student-run movie program.

The objectives of a Student Council are many. Some of its main duties are: to maintain relationships between the student body and the faculty; to deal with minor misdemeanors within the school; and to give new boys confidence in facing their new environment.

In summary of what has been done this year, it can be said that the emphasis has been on the individual, and on the responsibility that he can take. It is our belief that everything stems from the individual; and that the better the student, the better the school, and the better our future citizens.

Peter A. Taylor

Since the pattern for the Year Book has been very much the same in the past few years, we have endeavored to change it in only a few aspects. The entire senior class, as well as the staff, deserves credit for the production and publication of the book. A good deal of time and trouble has been expended by everyone.

The seniors have written about one another, and the organizations and sports have been handled by their respective heads and captains. The book itself has been published by the Out West Printing Company, and the cuts are by Ed Johnson. Mr. Guy Burgess took the organization, group, and team photographs.

The primary purpose of a year book is to be a reminder of our school days. This year's book is intended not only to incorporate the school as a whole, but to emphasize the senior class's activities in particular. The class wants a record that can serve these purposes. We hope that this publication can keep up the high standards set in the previous Year Books. This year, after much careful consideration, the class of '53 has christened the Year Book with a new name. We sincerely hope that the future graduating classes will carry on the name, The Dane, which was taken from the paper.

Mr. Taylor, our adviser, deserves special thanks for his help and for his encouragement. His efforts are greatly appreciated.

To the graduating class of '54 we extend best wishes for a successful year.

THE DANE

Editor-in-Chief.....Henry Wise
Feature Editor.....Peter Taylor
News Editor.....Aymon deSales
Sports Editor.....Willard Moore
Art Editor.....Dave Tittle

Last year a group of boys came together and started a new student paper, The Dane. For years the school had been without such a publication, and it was a hard job to begin one. At the beginning of this year, some of the members of last year's Dane staff along with several new members met with Mr. Taylor, the paper's faculty adviser, and elected the officers. Jon Bayer was unanimously elected Editor-in-Chief, Pete Taylor received the Feature Editor's slot; Henry Wise, the News Editorship; and Willard Moore was made Sports Editor. Feeling that the paper lacked "art" in the form of cartoons, the staff approached Dave Tittle, who agreed to fill the missing post. Jon Bayer, unfortunately, was unable to continue as head editor, and his place was taken, early in the fall, by Henry Wise.

While retaining many of the old features, such as a student composition, The Dane strove to make itself more interesting to its readers. The listing of movies, therefore, was enlarged to a review by the News Editor, and numerous short articles were printed in different issues as experiments. Many of these were retained for the rest of the year.

The Dane's greatest fault was its technical errors. Too many slipped past the eyes of the editors, many of which would have been printed if it had not been for Mr. Taylor who went out of his way to help make the paper a success.

And The Dane was a success. Though it is still a young publication with a lot to learn, it has come a long way since its birth. If the future editors will put as much work into the paper as did this year's staff, then The Dane will continue to improve by leaps and bounds. What's more, the more work the future editors put into the paper, the more enjoyment they will get out of it.

THE DANCE COMMITTEE

With the help of the entire school, the Dance Committee organized three highly successful dances this year. Renny Spaulding from the Fourth Form, Frank Deen and Ford Sayre from the Fifth Form, and Dan Charlton, Bill Glascock, Jim Kerlin, and Phil Rahm from the Sixth Form composed the committee with Mr. Berg as the faculty adviser. Although this group did much of the planning, it was the whole student body that made the dances a success.

Dave Tittle and Tom Kurth both did an excellent job in painting backdrops and setting the general theme for the dances. Credit should also be given to Sam Silverstein for his construction work.

The first dance, given at the end of the football season, was based on a French motif. The highlights of the evening were the silhouette of French monuments on the walls, and the male skit that was staged during intermission. For the Winter Dance, we had a ski theme for which Tom Kurth drew the backdrop for the bandstand. The Spring Dance, given on May 2, was by far the most enjoyable dance of the year. Using a South-Seas motif, the Dance Committee decorated the room with bamboo, palm leaves, and scenes of life in the South Pacific.

The Dance Committee wishes to thank Mr. Berg for his help and ideas. Thanks go also to the chaperones who so willingly gave us a helping hand. Without these people the dances would not have been possible.

THE GLEE CLUB

In the whirl of school activities, it is difficult for many boys to devote as much time as they might want to our worthwhile Glee Club. Those survivors of a rather hard musical test given at the beginning of the year by Mr. Kitson made their first appearance in October. It was a short preliminary concert and was given in the Hacienda living room. Following this, the Glee Club began to prepare for the annual joint concert, given in connection with a choral group from the Kent School in Denver. The performance meant a lot of work for all concerned, chiefly because the program was a long and ambitious one. Brahms seemed to dominate the evening, but this was not undesirable in any way. A group of six "Lieberslider Waltzes" and "Behold All Flesh" from the German Requiem was included. After the concert, Fountain Valley played host to the girls with an informal record dance.

Three days before Christmas Vacation, the Glee Club, augmented by faculty wives and lower formers, presented a group of carols in the Hacienda living room. Among the songs were: "Pat-A-Pan," a Burgundian air; "Song of Hope," from an ancient Jewish melody; and a noel of the Bressen Waits, "Christians Hark." An ensemble of six boys sang two compositions: "Touro-Louro-Louro;" another Burgundian air; and "Lo, How a Rose E're Blooming," by Praetorius.

Returning to the tradition of past years, the school presented a Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, Trial By Jury, in the winter term. The performance was a great success. For this, and every activity of the Glee Club, Mr. Kitson deserves, of course, the most credit. His enthusiasm and musicianship have been really stimulating. Mrs. Verda Lawrie was a great help to those singing, in providing excellent piano accompaniments during the entire year.

THE VARSITY CLUB

As the fifth year of the Varsity Club began, there were only five members: the president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and Bill Schmid. The first meeting was held early in the year, when Dan Charlton was unanimously voted a member. The club's members were: president, Bob Rahm; vice-president, Skip Hettinger; secretary, Tom Bohnen; treasurer, Phil Rahm. Members included Bill Schmid and Dan Charlton. After Christmas vacation Willard Moore, Pete Taylor, Tom Kurth, Bill Simpson and Deric Hopkins were voted in.

With the opening football game close at hand, a pep-rally was organized by the club. The task was well carried out and showed that the group was on its way to a fine year. Mr. Dibble was chosen faculty adviser. After the Varsity Club had held long consultations with Mr. Brown, it was decided that the club should have the opportunity to sell school rings and jewelry. Phil Rahm was put in charge of the operation with the assistance of Willard Moore. The profits were split with the store committee.

Next on the program was the introduction of minor letters. These were to be awarded to lower formers who were less active than the first-string players of varsity sports.

The awarding of letters continued to be a Varsity Club interest. The club also took control of the Red and Gray intra-mural contests.

The club wishes its future members the best of luck, and hopes that they will continue the profitable work.

TRIAL BY JURY

The performance of Trial By Jury returned the school to its annual tradition of a Gilbert and Sullivan operetta. There are, no doubt, some who would have preferred to have kept away from the "usual fare"; but, regardless of preferences, the audience enjoyed the entire show.

This Gilbert and Sullivan satire deals with the case of the jilted maiden, Angelina (played by Marilee Townsley), who sues the defendant (Tom Knorr) for breach of promise. With Bill Schmid presiding as the Judge, Jim Kerlin as the Usher, Phil Cox as the Counsel for the plaintiff, the spectators and a very biased jury — the defendant hasn't a chance of winning his case. However, a dilemma presents itself when none of the Judge's suggestions are accepted. The problem is solved when the Judge decides to marry Angelina himself.

This presentation ranks with the Trial By Jury in '44 at the Fine Arts Center. The principals did a very good job; but Bill Schmid and Tom Knorr were outstanding, both in singing and in acting. Perhaps the two most important factors contributing to the evening were that all in the cast were on their toes, and that all enjoyed themselves.

Not only was the singing excellent, but the costumes, make-up, and settings (designed by Mr. Bransby and Dave Tittle), were top-notch.

All hands, on stage or off, combined to give an operetta well worth applauding.

FOOTBALL - 1952

The 1952 version of the Dane football squad was continually pressed by the dreaded plague of athletes—injuries. At no time during the entire season did we field our complete team; there were, indeed, times when more Dane gridiron men could be found off the playing field than on. Despite these difficulties, however, the Fountain Valley team managed to chisel out a three-three-one record for the season. But we seriously doubt that any of us will be found boasting of our football accomplishments, for we could have done better. And, perhaps, we could have done worse.

Although football sometimes becomes a grind, the whole squad will admit, taking everything into account, that we had a whale of a time "slamming" each other around in both practices and games. In short, the 1952 football season was worthwhile.

F.V.S. 45 — St. Mary's 0

Led by halfback Bill Schmid, and quarterback Bill Bosshard, the Danes resoundingly walloped St. Mary's Pirates' 45-0, in the opening game of the season. Driving out of a devastating single-wing formation, Fountain Valley managed to tally in every quarter. Thus we compensated for last year's defeat at the Pirates' hands, and at the same time hammered out our most impressive win of the 1952 schedule.

F.V.S. 0 — Abbey 33

After learning of the Danes' 45-0 triumph, the Abbey Bears came down to the Valley in full force and regalia to do battle. And, battle they did! For the first period, it looked as though we would hold our own. But, from that point on, the roof fell in. Using their four teams to the best advantage, the Abbey Bears sustained a terrible attack, and a stone-wall defense. George Burt, their thundering fullback, helped humble the powerless Danes with four touchdowns. The score, perhaps, would have been greater had not Bill Schmid somewhat checked the Abbey with powerful punts. But, alas, Schmid left the game with serious injuries to both legs. This game was Bill's last. And, for the third successive time, the mighty Abbey Bears bit the Danes.

F.V.S. 6 — Centennial "B" 39

On the blazing hot afternoon of October eighteenth, the Danes found themselves in a warm Pueblo stadium. Because of an excessive amount of injuries, Fountain Valley had a backfield composed of only three regular backs, with line-man Tom Kurth running the left-halfback position. These four men, plus an under-manned line, played the whole game, offensively and defensively. From the beginning, we were on our heels. After the Bulldogs had tallied three times, we bounced back for our sole touchdown. Quarter-back Tittle spun off-tackle to score from thirty yards out. To say the least, we lost.

F.V.S. 20 — Terror "B" 20

Determined to break a two-game losing streak, the Fountain Valley Danes fought hard for four periods. But we didn't quite make it. In the last seconds of the game, the Terrors chanced a long pass, and cashed in on it, tying the score. Actually, it was the Danes who snapped back. At the end of the half, the Terrors were leading by two touchdowns. Coaches Newman and Dibble gave a most successful "pep-talk" to the team, and, as a result, we returned to push across three tallies. By virtue of the tie, we kept our record of no defeats at the hands of the Terrors.

F.V.S. 20 — Central "B" 0

On October 31, the Danes went visiting Central High School of Pueblo. To be frank, we were a little wary, but the whole squad was determined to return home sporting a new chalk mark in the win column. And return victorious we did. In the opening minutes of the game, the chances didn't appear too good for the Valley because of a number of fumbles on our part. But the Danes finally settled down, and marched to a twenty-to nothing win.

F.V.S. 38 — Colorado Military 6

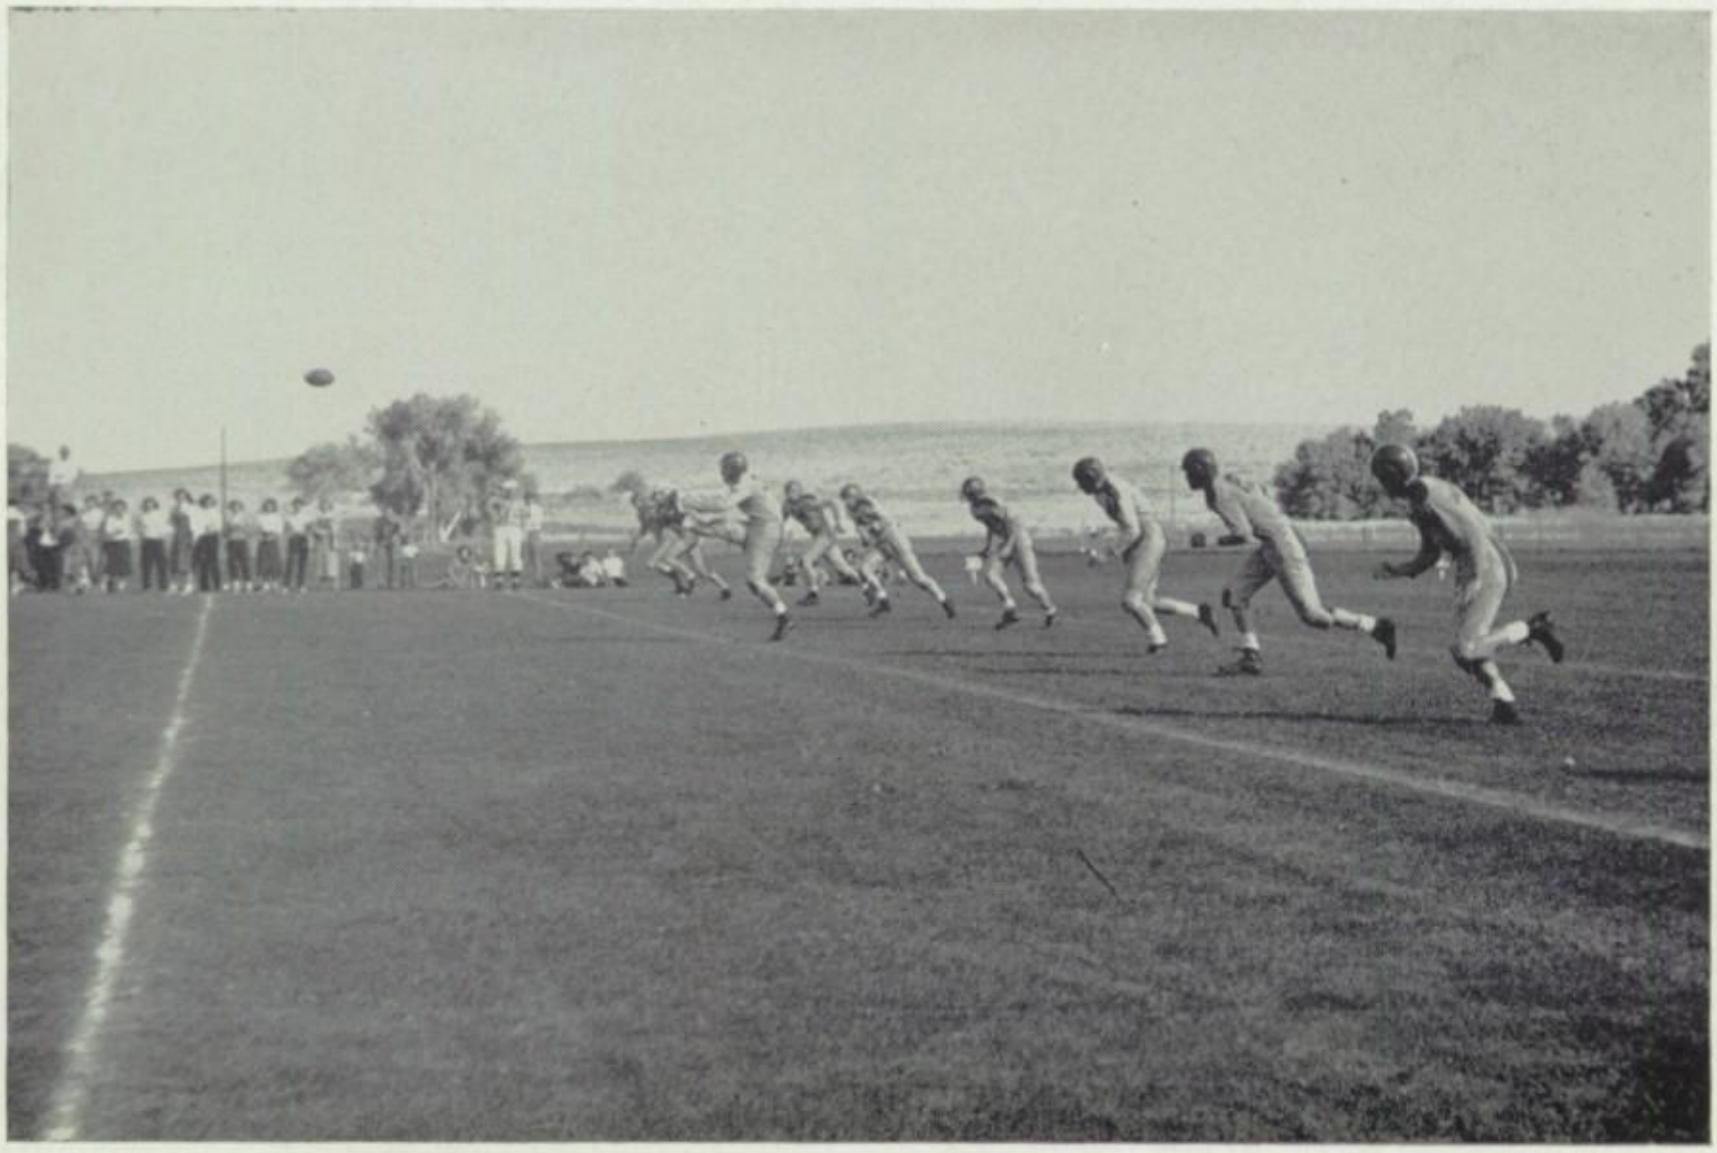
The following Saturday, the Danes entertained a small but valiant team from Denver. While it was a cold day, the Danes, unfortunately for C. M. A., were in good shape. We ran around their ends, off their tackles, through the center of the line, and passed, for six tallies and two points-after-touchdown. The game actually wasn't the slaughter that it seems; in fact, the C.M.A. defense was very strong at several points during the game. The Danes, nevertheless, won with a thirty-eight to six score.

F.V.S. 0 — Florence 36

For our last game of the 1952 football season, the Florence "Huskies" came down to Fountain Valley for the scrap. November 15 was not our lucky day, to say the least. The Valley completely broke down, and we looked like a 1915 Ford as compared to a sleek "Husky" Jaguar. True, we did have some tough breaks in the course of the game, but we were beaten by our own glaring weaknesses. In short, our tackling was almost lacking. There isn't much to say, except that we were beaten, and beaten badly.

In summary, we say that the 1952 Fountain Valley Football team was better than the 1951 team, both in spirit and in record. But, despite the slight improvement, there is still room for a higher degree of excellence. We sincerely hope that in years to come Fountain Valley will field increasingly better football squads.

We give to Mr. Newman, and Mr. Dibble, our deepest thanks for guiding us through our 1952 schedule; and we also give to them and to the school our hopes and best wishes for success during the many years to come.



VARSITY HOCKEY

Middle: McDonald, T. Collins. Front Row: Simpson, Fisk, Dignan, Hettinger, Service, Hopkins, Kurth, Washburn.

HOCKEY 1952 - 1953

The 1952-53 Hockey Team started off with high hopes of success. Seven returning lettermen were on hand to form a powerful Dane team. Along with the seven came Rennie Spaulding to hold down the center position, Bill Simpson and Dan Charlton for the goal duties, and Phil Rahm to round out the defense. The starting team consisted of Captain Skip Hettinger at right wing, Rennie Spaulding at center, and Deric Hopkins on the left wing. Wayne MacVeagh and, for a short time, Bill Schmid backed up the forward wall as blue line standouts. But an injury to Schmid caused Phil Rahm to fill his place — and Phil did very ably. Simpson drew the starting slot in the twines, and Dan Charlton was his regular second.

Second line reserves included Frank Deen, Bob Service, and Denny Dignam, with Chuck Fisk and Tom Kurth as spare defensemen. Other reserves were Jim Joy, Dave Davis, Ford Sayre, Jay McMillan and Allan Buzzi.

F.V.S. 4 — St. Mary's 3

On Thursday, December 4, at the Broadmoor Ice Palace, Fountain Valley opened its sixth season in the High School Hockey League by defeating St. Mary's Pirates 4-3. Bill Schmid started the Dane's scoring in the first period, and connected again in the third. Hopkins hit in the second stanza; and Dignan, who took a pass from Hettinger, ended the Dane scoring. St. Mary's added three goals in a minute and 45 seconds in the last period, but these were not enough to win.

F.V.S. 1 — Terrors 4

With "Doc" Romnes coaching the Danes for the first time, the league-leading Terrors had their hands full. The Terrors scored first, but Fisk evened the mark on an assist from Hopkins. The remaining period saw the Terrors squeeze out one goal in each. Although on the short end, the F.V. squad showed that it had a "never-say-die" spirit. Simpson was the standout for the night with 27 saves.

F.V.S. 1 — Cheyenne 6

On Saturday, December 13, the Fountain Valley Hockey Team met Cheyenne for the first time. From the outset it looked like an even game. Schmid scored for the Danes, and the score read 3-1 at the end of the first period. Fountain Valley seemed to fall down in the second period — later and throughout the season to become a common occurrence. Yet the third period showed a comeback. The final score was 6-1 for Cheyenne.

F.V.S. 5 — St. Mary's 0

For the second time the Dane pucksters took on the St. Mary's Pirates. The night belonged to the Dane captain, Skip Hettinger. Scoring one goal in the first period, and following with two goals in each of the following frames, Skip connected for a five-goal "hat trick." Four of the goals were unassisted, and the fifth was made with an assist from Denny Dignan. Bill Simpson and Dan Charlton each played part of the game at goal.

F.V.S. 0 — Terrors 4

After the vacation, the Danes met the Terrors again. Bill Schmid had returned to school with the news that he couldn't play. Also on the injury list was Bob Service, who was recovering from an appendicitis operation. The Terrors scored once in the first period, and three times in the second frame. There was no scoring in the last period. Dan Charlton came up with 16 saves, but had no saves in the last period. Final score was 4-0.

F.V.S. 1 — Cheyenne 5

The Dane icemen started off the game with the first goal by Spaulding on an assist from Hettinger, and ended the first period with another tally. Cheyenne bounced back with four goals in the second period, and in the final stanza Fountain Valley just couldn't keep the spark alive. In the nets Bill Simpson came up with 13 saves for the game.

All-Star F.V. - Cheyenne 4 — St. Mary's - Terrors 6

A team of Fountain Valley-Cheyenne players against a Terror-St. Mary's club met on Saturday, January 24, for the mid-season All-Star game. Hahl opened the F.V.-Cheyenne club scoring, followed by Hettinger's goal, which left the F.V.-Cheyenne club ahead at the end of the first period. The Terror-St. Mary's sextet scored the only goal of the second frame. In the last stanza, Hettinger scored again, but the opposition scored twice. Hahl of Cheyenne hit again to increase the F.V.-Cheyenne lead. Then the Terror-St. Mary's club fired three quick goals past the F.V. goalie, Bill Simpson, to win the game 6-4.

F.V.S. 4 — Cheyenne 2

An upset-minded Dane hockey team capitalized on Cheyenne's mistakes. Cheyenne hit for the first goal, but Denny Dignan, on an assist by Frank Deen, evened the score at the end of the first period. In the second frame Cheyenne once more took the lead, but again the Danes scored when Skip Hettinger hit unassisted. As the third period got underway, Spaulding put the Danes out in front for the first time on an assist from Hettinger. The game was iced when Cheyenne drew their goalie, and Skip Hettinger took the puck and cleared it the length of the ice into the unguarded Cheyenne nets. It was Fountain Valley's first victory over Cheyenne in five years.

F.V.S. 4 — Terrors 6

Fountain Valley's improving hockey team almost gave the league-leading Terrors an upset, but they didn't quite have the final push. The Terrors hit twice before Hopkins scored F.V.'s first goal. In the second period the Terrors hit again, but Skip Hettinger notched another Dane tally. At the opening of the third period the score read 3-2. Then Hettinger hit again to narrow the scoring gap. Two quick goals gave the Terrors another lengthy lead. But not to be outdone, the Danes, sparked by Skip Hettinger, who hit for his third goal, and a "hat trick" for the evening, scored again. Final score, 6-4.

F.V.S. 3 — Daly Redwings 4

On Saturday, January 31, the Fountain Valley pucksters journeyed to Denver to play the Daly Redwings. The Danes just couldn't get going. The Red Wings scored the first goal and kept ahead for the rest of the game. Skip Hettinger scored the first goal for the Danes. Rennie Spaulding notched the second Dane goal to tie the game 2-2 in the first minutes of the third period. Then the Red Wings hit for two goals. Hettinger followed with the last Dane marker, unassisted.

F.V.S. 0 — Terrors 5

After midyear exams, the week's layoff with no practice was evident in the last game of the year with the Terrors. The high school scored two goals in the first period; one in the second; and two more in the third period. It just wasn't Fountain Valley's night. It was good news, however, that Bob Service returned to the Dane lineup from the injured list. Both Service and Phil Rahm played standout games for the Danes.

F.V.S. 6 — St. Mary's 2

With victory in their eyes, the Dane icemen went after St. Mary's for their fourth win of the season. Skip Hettinger opened the scoring and was followed by Jim "Scratch" Joy, who notched his first goal of the season when he skated in and scored unassisted. As the second period progressed, Deric Hopkins scored on an assist from Bob Service. Skip Hettinger hit for the second time as the period closed. In the third frame, Denny Dignan blasted one past the Pirate goalie. St. Mary's connected with two goals also, but Hettinger ended the scoring with his third goal of the night for the "hat trick." Bill Simpson played a standout game in the nets, as did our two blue-line experts, Phil Rahm and Wayne MacVeagh.

F.V.S. 1 — Cheyenne 5

After the expected victory over St. Mary's, the Danes shipped into another slump by losing to Cheyenne 1-5. Fountain Valley drew first blood when Hopkins took a pass from Hettinger about two minutes into the first period. Then Cheyenne scored two, and two more in the second period. In the last frame, Cheyenne scored once. Simpson had 11 saves in the tilt.

F.V.S. 0 — St. Mary's 2

The Danes' last league game of the season ended in an upset for the St. Mary's Pirates. Undermanned, the Red and Gray pucksters fought hard all the way. St. Mary's scored once in the first period and once in the third. All through the game the Dane squad was held back by penalties. Ned Washburn, in the nets for the Danes, was playing his first game of the year.

Terrors 4 — All-Stars 3

The Terror hockey team edged out the All-Stars 4-3 in an overtime period. The high school champions drew first blood, but were tied up very quickly. Scoring see-sawed back and forth, and in the early part of the third period the score was 3-3. This tie remained for the rest of the period. Then, in the overtime period, Bucky Reinking scored the winning goal for the Terrors.

For the 1952-53 season, F.V.S. wound up with 4 wins and 9 losses. Everyone was happy to see the Danes come out of the high school league cellar, and wind up in third place. The high scorer for the team was Captain Skip Hettinger, followed by Hopkins, Spaulding, and Dignan in that order. The Hockey season ended with the All-Star game on February 26, when the Terrors defeated the All-Stars 4-3. Bill Simpson and Skip Hettinger were chosen on the all-league second team. Captain Hettinger was named the most valuable player of the league.

The class of '53 wishes next year's team the best luck in the world, in hopes that they will climb higher than we did this year. Our deepest thanks go to "Doc" Romnes who brought us up to the kind of team we hoped to be. Without such coaching we could never have survived.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

BASKETBALL

The 1953 Dane basketball season started off with one of the strongest teams of recent years. With Mr. Dibble helping Mr. Newman on the coaching staff and with five returning lettermen from last year's team, the group, as a whole, looked promising. Since about 15 candidates turned out for the first practices, competition was stiff and spirit ran high. But even before the first game, the team was handicapped by the loss of 3 first-stringers and one top substitute; however, the team pulled itself together to form a small but efficient group of 7 players. Tom Bohnen was the starting right forward, while Bob Rahm switched from guard to forward whenever the need arose. Pete Taylor, John Crawford, who alternated at center, and "Chug" Tuttle filled in the guard slots. These 3 were the steady scorers. "Rab" Moore proved a valuable substitute at forward, and Tom Cooley filled in at the pivot position.

In the first game of the season, the Danes edged the Deaf and Blind School of Colorado Springs for a win of 46-43. In the first half the F.V. quintet racked up a lead that their opponents were not able to break, even though they outscored the Danes in the latter part of the game. Bohnen led the scoring with 16 points.

The next game was played in Denver with the Colorado Military Academy five. This proved to be one of the closest contests of the season for the Danes. The C.M.A. team suddenly became hot in the final period. The Fountain Valley team won 37-36, and it was only a matter of seconds that saved the game from going into an overtime. Bohnen again led the scoring with 15 points.

With two wins under their belts, the Danes upset the St. Mary's Pirates with a win of 52-50. In this, the best-played game of the season, Bohnen scored 21 points, with Crawford and Cooley getting 11 and 13 respectively. The highlights of the game were Rahm and Bohnen's fast-break combination and Crawford's flawless foul shooting.

In their fourth game, with Manitou, the Danes bowed before superior forces by a score of 51-30. The scoring was well divided among the Dane players, and no player was outstanding. This game proved to be the start of a mid-season slump.

For the next game of the season, the F.V. squad traveled to the Cheyenne gym to be soundly beaten by the Indians, 50-31. Tom Cooley played one of his best games, but the team as a whole was weak in both passing and shooting.

After two losses in a row, the Dane squad came through and gave the "Stars" a thorough trouncing. The final score was 58-40, and it was only in the final quarter that the visiting team succeeded in cracking the Dane defense. Bohnen, Crawford and Cooley shared the scoring honors.

The Colorado Military team then proceeded to come to the F.V. court and upset the hoopsters by a score of 38-32. The Dane team dropped off in the final quarter, and the C.M.A. squad went ahead to take the game. Bohnen got 14 points, but the team was not able to pull itself out of the hole.

On February 10, the Fountain Valley five lost to a powerful Abbey team on the Bear's court. The Dane scoring in this game was quite even, but John Crawford was the outstanding player with 12 points to his credit.

In the next tilt of the season, F.V. lost to the Terror "B" squad by a score of 45-26. Scoring for the Danes was low all around, but Tom Bohnen was able to put in 10 points. As usual, most of the scoring was done by the Danes in the first half.

On February 24, a greatly weakened Dane team travelled to Woodland Park to edge a 46-43 victory for the fifth win of the season. For the first half Fountain Valley put on a poor show, but in the final periods they came back to win. Sam Silverstein was the star of the game with 19 points.

Two days later the Danes travelled to the Deaf and Blind School home court to lose by a score of 35-27. Glascock and Washburn both got 6 points, but the team was not able to come from behind in the final period.

In the last game of the season, the Danes were hosts to the powerful Abbey team. The Bears outscored Fountain Valley during the whole game. Their exceptional strength was shown by the fact that in the last quarter they scored 29 points to 15 for the Danes. The final score was 44-22. The season ended with a record of five wins and seven losses for the Red and Gray.

BASEBALL

With the basketball season drawing to close, the sports interest at F.V.S. turned to speculation on the prospects for the 1953 edition of Varsity Baseball. The future at first looked bright. Two-thirds of last year's lettermen were on hand, and a group of likely looking newcomers became evident during the sunny days of early spring. When the practice schedule got under way, however, there were a few bad breaks in store for the horsehiders. On doctor's orders, Bill Schmid, letterman first sacker of 1952, was forced to sit out the '53 season. Dan Charlton, a letter winner last year, was no longer a candidate for the squad. Also, an increased interest in track took its toll of candidates. But the remaining aspirants showed a spirit and hustle that Mr. Newman and Mr. Dibble hoped would compensate for the misfortunes of this year's squad.

Jay McMillan appeared to have clinched the third-base spot, but, after the first game, found himself in the infirmary. Denny Dignan, who came up with McMillan from Mr. Berg's Pups, filled in admirably at the "hot corner." Dignan was eager to learn and provided stiff competition for "Mac" during the remainder of the season. Ned Washburn outlasted all competition at short, and the former Pup looked impressive in the first two games he played. Switching from the outfield and the mound, Tom Bohnen won the starting second-base spot. Tom was elected captain for the 1953 season. First base was still somewhat a question mark. With Bill Schmid out of action, Skip Hettinger and Jim Finlay (up from the Pups) waged a nip-and-tuck battle for the first-string slot on the initial sack. Since we are uncertain at this writing, it is impossible to predict the outcome of this contest. If Hettinger should come out second-best, there will be a berth in the outfield waiting for him. Deric Hopkins, Fred Fung, and Jim Donaldson all saw action in the outer pastures.

Willard ("Rab") Moore, who was a great defensive catcher and sharp hitter last season was easily chosen for No. 1 catcher in 1953. A great deal of credit, however, must be given to Dave Tittle who has backed "The Rab" for two years behind the plate. Although he didn't play a great deal, Tittle proved to be invaluable to the team by virtue of his catching during batting practice and his fine coaching on the base-paths during games.

Bob Rahm was the mainstay of the numerically small mound-staff. Many times in the past two years "Bubba" has disproved the old axiom that "pitchers can't hit." His big bat played a major role in the Dane's attack.

As the year book, The Dane, went to press, the squad had played two games. Two others had been snowed out. The following is a summary of the Dane's early efforts on the diamond.

F.V.S. 2 — Cheyenne 3

Although the team looked impressive in its first game, it fell victim to a vicious Cheyenne bunting attack.

The F.V.S. nine got off to a good start in the third inning. Leading off, Moore blasted the first pitch over the left field fence for the first hit of the Danes' 1953 season. Hettinger fanned, but Bohnen clouted a triple that looked homer-bound until a tree deflected the ill-fated ball back onto the field. Rahm, however, singled through the box, and Bohnen scored from third, ending the F.V.S. scoring for the afternoon.

But undaunted Cheyenne pecked away at the lead, and finally scored the winning run on a squeeze bunt in the final inning.

Bob Rahm and "Rab" Moore were the individual stars in the losing effort.

F.V.S. 7 — St. Mary's 6

In the second game of the season, the Danes dumped St. Mary's 7-6 in a dramatic last-inning stand.

Fountain Valley opened the scoring with two out in the first. Bohnen, batting third, lined a single to center, stole second, and, after Fung and Rahm walked, scored in front of Fung on Hopkins' double to right center. Washburn followed with his first hit of 1953, driving in Rahm and Hopkins. With one out in the third, Fung singled to center, and Rahm walked. Hopkins then fanned, but Washburn came through with his second straight hit, again scoring Fung and Rahm. In the sixth, for the third straight time, Washburn singled. After stealing second, "Need-eye" scored on Tom Wood's hit to left. Wood, a third former and regularly a Pup, deserves special credit for his play in the varsity game. St. Mary's, however, fought back and scored three runs on a triple in the final stanza. Rahm wild-pitched, but Moore's throw to our tiring hurler caught the runner at the plate. With two out, Rahm forced the next hitter to hit an easy roller to Bohnen who threw it to first for the game-ending out.

Along with Wood, Bob Rahm deserves special credit for his superb pitching. The muscular hurler fanned 13 while walking four.

Although hampered by bad luck and worse weather, the 1953 baseball team will, we are sure, enjoy one of their best seasons in recent years under the excellent coaching of Mr. Newman and Mr. Dibble.

PUP FOOTBALL

Coaches Berg and Spock were enthusiastic about the turnout for Pup football with fourteen donning uniforms at the first call. Later in the season three more came out to lend aid and weight to a lightweight squad. Most of the team was of unknown quality, since Uhl, Lehman, Griffin, and Leeds were the only holdovers from last year's team. After the initial week of practice the coaches could see steady improvement and had spotted some boys who might form a nucleus for a fast club.

The first game with the Stratton School was a real test for an inexperienced team, but the Pups handled themselves creditably and lost a close one, 21 to 13, with Jake Schoellkopf scoring both T.D.'s. The team showed cohesion at times, but in the clutch they folded; this was the case throughout the season. The Rams, of the tough Young - America League, showed plenty of power in the first half to take a 19 to 0 lead, and gave evidence of making the game a runaway. The Pups, however, came steaming back in the second half to score once and hold the vaunted Rams without a tally. It was a fine showing after a lackluster appearance in the opening quarters.

Next came the Bluedevils of the same league, who eventually won their league title. The Pups played their best ball in the first half to win 14 to 0. The defense was a highlight of the entire contest. Stratton came back for a return visit, and, with the help of newcomers Buzzi and Joy, the Pups avenged the earlier defeat by downing the Blue and Gold 28 to 19 in a thriller. Limon Jr. High — a big, rugged, and well-drilled outfit — outclassed the "Little Varsity" 41 to 6. The highlight of this game was a sparkling 96-yard run from scrimmage by Captain Al Uhl. The team utterly fell apart when they lost to a hustling Young America squad, 28 to 0, the only time during the season that our boys were shut out. Our final game, against the Graland School, proved to be sweet revenge for the Denver team, and a discouraging note for us.

Back Row: Mr. Berg, (Coach), C. Smith, Galbraith, Leeds, Yakowitz, T. Wood, T. Collins, W. Hughes, Webster. Front Row: Hunt, Rawles, Cris Fung, M. Collins, Ormes, D. Smith, Littell, Hoyt.

PUP BASEBALL

For the second successive year Pup Baseball teams have been coached by Mr. Berg, who has that rare faculty for being able to train young, inexperienced boys in the basic fundamentals of a sport. And this is exactly what he accomplished this year. A fine group of eager-to-learn candidates turned out this spring, and, under the guidance of Mr. Berg, became a hustling, fighting ball club. There were, of course, the usual problems to be solved; but, as the season progressed, these difficulties were ironed out satisfactorily.

At this writing, the Pups have played three games. In their first contest, the youthful squad lost a decisive battle to Myron Stratton, 13-1. This was the first actual competition experienced by many of the Pups; although they lost, they profited greatly from the defeat. In a rather unevenly-matched game, the team dropped a 12-0 decision to the St. Mary's Varsity. But, after two straight losses, the Pups bounced back, and whipped their former conquerers, Myron Stratton, to the tune of 11-6. The Fountain Valley nine played an excellent game, committing no errors in the field.

Hunt, Wood, Galbraith, and Webster carried the greatest part of the load this season, and to them, to all the other Pups, and to Mr. Berg, go the congratulations of the entire school for their hard work.

PUP BASKETBALL

A squad of twelve was weeded out to play for the Pup basketball team, and they got off to a fast start by whipping Stratton, 34 to 23. Heads-up play and smart passing featured this game; the prospects for a winning season seemed excellent. Stratton, with additional help, beat the Pupsters in a return match, 48 to 40, a close one all the way. The Pups then started a Saturday afternoon series with a church league in Colorado Springs by trouncing a very small and weak Calvary team, 46 to 6. The two Johns, Hunt and Ormes, showed the way with 8 and 10 points respectively. After beating Manitou, the little hoopsters dropped two close ones to the Trinity Church. The Pups once again resumed their winning ways, however, by out-hustling the Cheyenne "C"s, 26 to 18. By all odds, the worst-played game of the season was against the Presbyterians, who gave us a lesson to the tune of 34 to 14. With a decimated squad, the undermanned Pups put on a good showing for the first half, but were finally run into the ground by Cheyenne, 38 to 25. This was a very creditable job, done by only five men — none of whom had had much game experience before this contest. The last three games were, on whole, well-played, and the season ended with three straight wins. When the year ended, the record was 7 wins and 5 losses.

Greatest improvement was shown by Cyril Fung, Hunt, and Ormes, who by their hustle and willingness to learn, led the team to victory in its last few games. High scorer for the season was Clark Smith, with 61 points. He was followed by Bob Morrison with 50.

TRACK

This year's track team has had a run of rather tough luck. The Denver relays were rained out, and bad weather has hampered them as much as anything. Much credit should be given to Chuck Fisk for making the team what it is. The respective members are: Chuck Fisk, Dave Shoemaker, Renny Spaulding, Tom Kurth, Bob Morrison, Tom Keck, Tony Bonforte, Sam Cooper, Craig Johnson, and Chug Tuttle. John Morgan managed this year's team.

Although the team has lost its first two meets, it looks forward to making a good showing in future contests. The spirit of the team has been good this year, and the boys have been steadily improving. One of the main drawbacks to the team has been lack of "depth." In their two meets, they have had only one man in each event, while other schools have entered as many as three men in the events. Our candidates have done well, but the lack of a running mate in the events has given the other teams the edge needed to tally the majority of the points. The team makes quite a colorful sight on the cinders with their new uniforms. We are quite certain that they will improve their record as time progresses. All in all, the boys have done their best, and have won the respect of the school for their fine spirit and team loyalty.

TENNIS

This year any observer could see that the rigorous training that was given to last year's team carried through to spur on the 1953 squad. Emphasis is still given, the first half-hour of each day, to building much-needed muscles, coordination, and proper breathing habits. The coaches, Mr. Poor and Mr. Kitson, have stressed the learning of the strategy of the game.

For the first time in many years, there has been a complete tennis schedule and a competent team. Kenneth and Cyril Fung were the number-one and two players respectively. Tom Griffin, one of the youngest players on the team, held the number three position. The rest of the team was composed of Peter Mitchell, Jon Bayer, Drew Marshall, Bob Wood, Bill Glascock, and Bob Weitz. The coaches worked on both singles and doubles technique in order to perfect a good all-around team. Elected to the job of manager was Al Duell, who has done excellent work.

At the time of this writing, the team has played only one match, this being with a strong Pueblo Central team. Because the team was quite inexperienced, Tom Griffin was the only player to win his match. More matches are scheduled in the few remaining weeks, and the prospects seem good for a successful season.

With so many young players who have acquired remarkable capability and experience, the coaches are hopeful that in two or, at the most, three years, with these players, the school might have a state championship team.

Best wishes from Blue and me
Alva Uhl

Front Row: Mr. Cheney, (Riding Instructor), M. Smith, Fairburn, Frank, Deen, Landers, Knorr, Wood, MacVeigh, Charlton, Wise, Uhl, Lehman, Cross, Thatcher, Schoellkopf.

RIDING AND GYMKHANA

This fall, in addition to the regular, sport-period riding, Mr. Cheney took several week-end pack trips into Rustler's Roost. But when the hunting season began, the trips had to end, for a horse can too easily be mistaken for a deer. During the winter, only a few loyal riders braved the icy blasts when the weather was cold, and sweated it out when the weather was hot.

However, when spring rolled around, a large group turned out for riding and Gymkhana.

While it is hard, at this writing, to predict who will enter what events on Gymkhana day, we can safely say that we should have a good team. Wayne MacVeagh — the only "Horseman" — is the captain for the second time in two years, and there are a sizable number of "Longhorns" in the crowd. While these boys will make up the majority of the team, there are quite a few others who are going to give them close competition. In addition to the regular team events, there will be a mounted drill exhibition, featuring Dan Charlton, Wayne MacVeagh, and Henry Wise doing side vaults.

While we will not predict victory, we are sure that the team will make a good showing under the direction of Mr. Cheney, Mr. Littell, and manager Bob Wood.

WORK CREW

The work crew was originated in the middle of February 1952. The idea for such a group (which had been also in the minds of Mr. Cheney and Mr. Littell) became a fact when Dan Worth and John Morgan wanted to get away from organized sports.

The first job of the newly formed work crew was that of building a fence behind First House. On the job were Bryant Barnard and Bill Fairburn. Mr. Littell took over the position of "Coach" of the crew. The group's purpose was to work under Ed Bryant on projects connected with the school farm plan.

The work crew has had an excellent record. In each of the three sports seasons from a dozen to sixteen boys have turned out. Mr. Taylor came out occasionally and took over Mr. Littell's job for the day.

During the fall term the work was evenly divided between fencing and corn picking, with a bit of haying thrown in. In the winter term, work on the new gym took up a good part of the time, with occasional attempts at tree-trimming, ditch-digging and various clean-up jobs for variety.

So far, this spring has been full of ditch-digging and fence work. Off and on throughout the year the crew has worked with stock, grinding feed, and with the school grounds.

Several worth-while accomplishments of the crew have been: stacking thirty-four tons of baled hay in two afternoons of work; working three weeks on a fence in time to meet a government contract; and aiding Ed Bryant with testing the school's beef herd. This year the work crew put in 126 working days.

The hours are irregular, and one never knows if he will be finished at four or six o'clock. Boys on the crew enjoy themselves, for they learn a great deal and have fun while doing so. After each term's work is completed, the Bryant family give the members of the work crew a breakfast which is fully appreciated by anyone who has ever been invited.

THE RIFLE CLUB

This year's rifle squad showed great promise under the direction of Mr. Brown, but, because of the many other activities, the number of boys varied during the year. The fall weather permitted good shooting, but the unpredictable winter storms prohibited regular practices.

Despite the interference, several members of the squad worked their way into expectation of the high N.R.A. positions of Expert and Distinguished shooters. Those participating in the rifle course during the year were Fred Fung, Mike Tibbet, Bob Wood, Mike Collins, Tom Griffin, John Crawford, John David, and Jim Donaldson. All members were looking forward to an enjoyable season, and although no matches were scheduled, the marksmanship considerably improved.

This year Fountain Valley was forced to drop from the annual Tri-state meet held in Denver because of the interference of other sports. However, even without competition, several excellent shooters appeared. Occasionally Mr. Brown took the pistol enthusiasts to the range to try their hand at a more difficult form of shooting. The majority of the time was spent improving upon the riflery.

The rifle club had an enjoyable and constructive season which may be attributed to the cooperation of the students and the tireless efforts of Mr. Brown.

RED AND GRAY

Red and Gray competition is an integral part of the Fountain Valley School life, but the contests are staged only when the hum of activities will permit the time. Because the inter-school life this year was at an unusually high ebb, there has been — up to this writing — only one contest — and that was in hockey. The game was indicative of the evenness of the squads this year.

Sparked by Skip Hettinger, the Red pucksters edged their Gray opponents 2-1. Hettinger notched both Red tallies in the hard-fought battle. Frank Deen scored the lone goal for the losing Gray.

In the few short weeks remaining this year, the boys of both teams are hopeful that the important intra-mural rivalry can be resumed in baseball, basketball, volleyball, and all the other sports that have made Red-Gray competition so much fun in past years.

THE MOUNTAIN CLUB

Because of an increased interest in mountain and rock climbing, Mr. Ormes last year formed a Mountain Club. The main purpose of the club is to promote interest in climbing and to organize trips. So far, five boys — Bill Glascock, Gordon Hughes, Ford Sayre, Bob Service, and Sam Silverstein — are members, but it is hoped that next year more boys will qualify.

Last spring the club sponsored a trip up Mount Silverheels in the Mosquito Range. In spite of the cold weather, the party reached the top in time to see a beautiful sunrise. The climbing of Mount Lincoln marked the first trip this fall, and started the year off with a bang. Also a snow climb was made this spring through heavy snow and some rock to the ridge of South Tarryall Peak.

One of the chief activities of the club has been to arrange numerous rock climbs. Through Mr. Ormes' coaching, all of the members have gained some knowledge of the technical aspects of climbing. To date, all climbing of this kind has been done either in North Cheyenne Canyon or in the Garden of the Gods.

Two evening programs were held by the Mountain Club for the benefit of the entire school. At the first, Mrs. Elizabeth Cowles, one of the most widely experienced of America's mountaineers, showed some of the pictures taken on her trip "North to Everest." On the other occasion, Mr. Eldon Metzger, of the Mountain and Cold Weather Training Command, showed some movies of climbing in the Northwest.

The qualifications for membership are: one major peak ascent, one snow climb or cross-country ski run, a knowledge of basic rope techniques, common sense, and one grade "A" rock climb. Mr. Spock and Mrs. Cowles were elected honorary members of the club on the Mt. Lincoln trip. It is felt that the club can do much to improve school spirit, and for this reason we hope that it will have the enthusiastic support of the students in years to come.

SKIING

The season opened late in November when Mr. Spock took a trip to Arapahoe Basin. The conditions were not so good as might have been expected, but everyone had a wonderful time. There were several more trips on the week-ends preceding Christmas vacation. After Christmas there seemed to be almost as much preparation for skiing as for mid-year exams. The most popular spot seemed to be Arapahoe Basin, which is located about one hundred and fifty miles from the school.

Mr. Spock made many of the trips possible by lending his time, car, and trouble to the noble sport. Aspen proved to be almost as popular as Arapahoe in the latter part of the skiing season. Although less accessible, Aspen's many varied runs for novices and experts seemed to beckon more and more invitingly as the season progressed. Mr. Spock took several week-end trips to this spot, and everyone seemed to enjoy himself. Many of the boys spent their spring vacations in Aspen in order to become better acquainted with the fundamentals of the sport.

Some of the more enthusiastic skiers during the year were: Ford Sayre, Phil Rahm, Tom Kurth, Jim Joy, Sam Silverstein, and Al Uhl. The season as a whole was a great success, and everyone has benefited from his experiences. The school appreciates the support that Mr. Spock has given to the ski enthusiasts.

and, in the end...

Best of luck to a great red head.
Be good and go
easy with the women.

John Crawford

ya can't find any good women in Aspen. Take it easy, boy!
